Dear Carolyn,

Thanks so much for the Christmas card, letter and photo's of the children - the card and photo's ended up in our picture album.

I am working on the family genealogy and finding out more all the time. Would you look in your Dekalb Co. History and see if there is any information on the following -

Margaret Leonard
? B.
? D.
? m.
John Shatto (civil war vet. died of illness during war.) John L.
? B. mustered Nov. 22, 1861, died at Evansville, Ind. Dec. 11, 1861
? D. 12-15-1861

John + Margaret moved to Dekalb Co. in 1850 and made their home near Cedar Lake. I think they may be buried in Cedar Lake Cemetery.

I don't have the name of Margaret's mother or father whose name was Leonard a Revolutionary War veteran. Will you see if there are any Leonards mentioned. I have a note that Margaret was born in Pa.

Hope you are all keeping well -

Love,
Aunt Lurah

Dear Carolyn,

I called Lorna Lee Virgin this March 15th. Vernon has had a series of illness this year. He had prostrate cancer, a heart condition she said electrical - then a bad fall that injured his shoulder. She said Craig is finished with his auto accident surgeries. Their daughter that is married to a minister has taken a position the head of some Presbyterian Church in Lavonia Michigan and they have moved there. It is near Detroit. Vernon rented 200 A. of land again this year and he owns 400 A and they still have their farm supply business. She ask about all our families and I tried to fill her in. Know she would enjoy a call from you.

Wiley had his 8th Chemo this morning. He has a series of 6 than rests for 2 weeks. He will need 16 more. So far he has tolerated it good. He doesn't have the strenth as before and tires easily.

I'm feeling better and try to keep up the house. It is so good to have all the icey weather over with.

I do have some genealogy questions to ask you-and will write them seperate. I've enjoyed all the material you sent and of course I started another note book. Also found I could add information to the DAR book I have. To think back on my research on Richard McBrides parents. I looked Pa. never thinking of Scotland.

I appreciate all the work + research you have. I think it is so nice you + Florian enjoy the same hobby.

Love, Aunt Lurah

VIII. BLUE MOUNTAIN (Northkill, Zion's)

Upper Tulpehocken Township
Founded in the 1740s. There are two churches named Northkill, located about five miles apart and they are easily confused.

Lutheran pastors: Casper Stoever, some of whose baptisms labeled Tulpehocken in his private register, are also included in the Blue Mountain register; Daniel Schumacher (1756-1758); William Kurtz (1759-1763); and Peter Mischler.

The Lutheran congregation disbanded in 1972. The Reformed congregation is Zion United Church of Christ, Strausstown.

Records: Philip Schaff Library. "Church Record of Zion's or Blue Mountain Church Near Strausstown, Upper Tulpehocken Township. 1767 (1745) - 1863." Copied August 1935. Copied by William J. Hinke. The earliest known register was begun by Lewis Lupp in 1767. He entered baptisms performed as early as 1743 (not necessarily members of the Blue Mountain Church).

I saw your posting on the internet and wondered which Swalley line you are descended from. I posted a message on the Board today. I am the greatgranddaughter of Ezra Adam Swalley and Susan Rebecca Houchins.

The descent I have is:

John & Barbara (Armagost-Armagast) Swalley
  Soloman & Mary Elizabeth (Miller) Swalley
    Ezra Adams & Susan Rebecca (Houchins) Swalley

John & Barbara's children were:

John, Polly, William, Daniel and Soloman

Do you fit into any of these lines?

Respectfully,
Lynn E. Chase[Johannes Zwalle Des.FTW]

Note about John Kiser's death date:

Now that I know the names of Jacob Kaiser's parents, I looked back through my notes that I took at the New Philadelphia Courthouse late Summer 1999. I found where I made reference to a John Kiser, who's will (A2434 Docket #5, p. 81) mentioned wife Catherine and Unnamed children. Witness to the will was Martin Kiser. I need to go back to the courthouse to get more information. I think the date I wrote down was when the will was written, not necessarily when it was proved.

Could this Martin Kiser that was a witness to John's will be the Martin mentioned on occasion in the Beersheba Church book? Was this Martin brother to our John?

The 24 October 1850 Census states that George and wife Catherine were living in Malaga Twp., Monroe County, Ohio and they and the first three children, John, George Jr. & Francis were born in Germany. This is an obvious error as Georges father Daniel Swalley moved from Pennsylvania to Ohio in 1803.

George Putt, one of the most prosperous and prominent of the early settlers of De Kalb County, was born in Berks County, Pa., Nov. 19, 1814, the eldest son of Jacob and Catharine (Shaffer) Putt, native of Pennsylvania, of English and German descent. He was reared in his native State, and when fifteen years of age began driving a freight team over the mountains, a vocation he followed fifteen years. About 1835 he settled in Lebanon County, Pa., and in 1841 moved to Stark County, Ohio, and eleven months later, in 1842, came to Indiana and entered forty acres of land, and bought forty more in De Kalb County. It was located in the dense timber, but he went to work and soon had enough cleared to build a log cabin and raise a crop. He has been successful and to his land has added forty acres till now he has 120 acres of choice land, all well improved. He was married Nov. 15, 1835, to Sarah Ann, daughter of Nicholas and Elizabeth (Polm) Getz, native of Pennsylvania, of German descent. To them were born two children---Levi and Joanna Elizabeth Catharine, wife of John Anstett. Mrs. Putt died Sept 9, 1884. She, as has also Mr. Putt, have been a member of the German Reform church from her youth. Politically, Mr. Putt is a Democrat.

Adam Whitmeyer, son of George Ernst and Margaretha Finckbohn Witmeyer, was born in Heidelberg Twp in the western part of Berks Co PA in 1800. On March 22, 1822 he married Catherine Palm, daughter of Peter and Catherine Zwalle Palm. Their nine children, seven boys and two girls, were born in Lancaster Co between 1823 and 1845. By 1850 the family was living in Stark Co. Ohio and had finally settled in Crawford Co Ohio by 1856 and is recorded there in the 1860 census. JONATHAN R. SWALLEY. The subject of this biography is proprietor of one of the most beautiful farms in Otoe County, Nebraska, occupying an elevated situation overlooking the Missouri River. It embraces 200 acres of highly cultivated land, upon which have been erected a handsome residence and other convenient farm buildings. Mr. Swalley settled here in Juneof 1868, and there is ample evidence of the industry and perseverance with which he has labored. He, however, settled in Nebraska City in April, 1855. Besides the property above mentioned our subject also owns valuable land in Syracuse Precinct. He came to Nebraska ten years before it was transformed from a Territory into a State, and when the lard which he now occupies was but little removed from its primitive condition. He made the journey overland from his native State of Ohio, landing in this county on the 10th of April, 1855, and operated on land in another part of the precinct two years before making his purchase. He was born in Crawford County, Ohio, Jan. 2, 1833, and is the second son and fourth child of Solomon and Elizabeth (Miller) Swalley, both of whom were natives of Pennsylvania, and of substantial Dutch ancestry. The father was a farmer by occupation, and after his marriage and the birth of three children, Migrated with his little family to Crawford County, Ohio, where Jonathan R. was born not long afterward. In due time eleven more children were added to the family circle, which eventually included six sons and nine daughters. Of these five sons and seven daughters are still living, and all have been married. Our subject was reared to manhood in the Buckeye State, where he became familiar with agricultural pursuits and acquired a common-school education. In the meantime he learned the trade of carpenter, and thus, armed with a good trade and a knowledge of farming, crossed the Mississippi, and soon afterward began to carve out his fortune among the pioneers of Nebraska Territory. Mr. Swalley, after laying the foundation for a future home and competence, was united in marriage with Miss Nancy J. Holmes, who was born in Howard County, Mo., Dec. 9, 1844. Mrs. Swalley is the daughter of George and Susan (Ethell) Holmes, natives of Boone County, Mo. Her father died when she was quite young, and she was taken into a good home in Davis County, Iowa, where she was reared to womanhood, and soon afterward came to Nebraska with her mother and stepfather. She is a very intelligent and capable lady. Of her union with our subject there were born three sons, two of whom are deceased, George E. and an infant unnamed. The former was born Aug. 30, 1869, and died April 7, 1874. Herbert B. was born Nov. 29, 1873, in Wyoming Precinct, and is now a promising boy, making his home with his parents. Mr. Swalley is a Republican, politically, and is esteemed among his neighbors as a man whose word is considered as good as his bond. Quiet and unobtrusive in his habits, he has never sought office, although keeping himself well posted upon current events, and encouraging the enterprises calculated to advance the people socially and financially. The Swalley homestead invariably attracts the attention of the traveler along the northern line of this county, being not only one of the most beautiful, but one of the most valuable in its precinct. Everything that the hand of industry could accomplish and taste could suggest, has been done to fulfill the idea of the modern country estate.[Johannes Zwalle Des.FTW] second son and fourth child of Solomon and Elizabeth (Molly) Swalley, both of whom were natives of Pennsylvania, and of substantial Dutch ancestry. The father was a farmer by occupation, and after his marriage and the birth of three children, Migrated with his little family to Crawford County, Ohio, where Jonathan R. was born not long afterward. In due time eleven more children were added to the family circle, which eventually included six sons and nine daughters. Of these five sons and seven daughters are still living, and all have been married. Our subject was reared to manhood in the Buckeye State, where he became familiar with agricultural pursuits and acquired a common-school education. In the meantime he learned the trade of carpenter, and thus, armed with a good trade and a knowledge of farming, crossed the Mississippi, and soon afterward began to carve out his fortune among the pioneers of Nebraska Territory. Mr. Swalley, after laying the foundation for a future home and competence, was united in marriage with Miss Nancy J. Holmes, who was born in Howard County, Mo., Dec. 9, 1844. Mrs. Swalley is the daughter of George and Susan (Ethell) Holmes, natives of Boone County, Mo. Her father died when she was quite young, and she was taken into a good home in Davis County, Iowa, where she was reared to womanhood, and soon afterward came to Nebraska with her mother and stepfather. She is a very intelligent and capable lady. Of her union with our subject there were born three sons, two of whom are deceased, George E. and an infant unnamed. The former was born Aug. 30, 1869, and died April 7, 1874. Herbert B. was born Nov. 29, 1873, in Wyoming Precinct, and is now a promising boy, making his home with his parents. Mr. Swalley is a Republican, politically, and is esteemed among his neighbors as a man whose word is considered as good as his bond. Quiet and unobtrusive in his habits, he has never sought office, although keeping himself well posted upon current events, and encouraging the enterprises calculated to advance the people socially and financially. The Swalley homestead invariably attracts the attention of the traveler along the northern line of this county, being not only one of the most beautiful, but one of the most valuable in its precinct. Everything that the hand of industry could accomplish and taste could suggest, has been done to fulfill the idea of the modern country estate.

All are married except David, Svlvenus being a merchant at Iuka, Ill. Since coming to this State, Mr. Swalley has developed a quarter-section of land, which he himself entered, and has bought other lots, owning at present 200 acres. The cabin of primitive days was years ago replaced by a more tasty and commodious structure, and but little is left to remind one of the forest home they occupied and enjoyed years ago. Both Mr. and Mrs. Swalley are members of the Free-Will Baptist Church. He cast his first vote for Andrew Jackson, but left the party at the time of the war, and is now a stalwart Republican.

Dear Clint,
I found your response on the Swalley name at Surname Helper and was wondering if you had any information on the Swalley line I'm looking for. Lafayette Swalley (b.1846) m. Almeda Paul are my gggrandparents. They are buried in Crawford County Ohio. I think Lafayette's parents could be William (1810-1892) and Katherine (Van settler) Swalley. My grandfather, Virgil Swalley, copied the headstones from the Texas Township Cemetery in Crawford County Ohio about 25 yrs. ago. One stone read W. Swalley died 3-23-1892 age 31yr. 4mos. 30days. This would match the above William as far as the death date goes except that he would be 81yrs old instead of 31 yrs old. My grandfather noted the wear on the stones in his records, so it's my hope that these are one in the same. My family tells me they thought there was a Kermit Virgil Swalley in the line as well as an Uncle Don Swalley. Does any of this sound familar to you? Thank you for looking this over.

Margaret HULINS[689] was born in 1595 in Gloucestershire, England. She died on 28 August 1684 in Springfield, Hampshire, Massachusetts. Widow Margaret Bliss:
BIRTH: She was born in 1595 in Gloucestershire, England, dau of John & Margaret Hulins
MARRIAGE: Thomas Bliss about1590 in Gloucestershire, England. He died about 1648/49 in Hartford, CT.
BIOGRAPHY: She was a good-looking woman, with a square oblong face that betokened great capability and force of character. She had a broad open brow, fair hair, and blue eyes. After the death of her husband, which took place about the close of the year 1639, she managed the affairs of the family with great prudence and judgment. She and her eight children gathered their household goods and cattle together and made the journey through the forest from Hartford to Springfield in 1643. Her sons, Nathaniel and Samuel had been there previously and prepared a dwelling place for the family upon arrival. Margaret Bliss' land bordered George Langdon and Joseph Parsons. A daughter, Elizabeth, was the second wife of Miles Morgan. Another daughter, Mary, married Joseph Parsons. Had a son, Lawrence, who died leaving Samuel--who later was under the guardianship of Widow Bliss and her son, Nathaniel. Their family consisted of Nathaniel, who died in 1654, Lawrence who died in 1676, Samuel, who died in 1720, John who died in 1702, Mary who married Joseph Parsons, Sarah who married John Foot, Hester who married Edward Foster, and Elizabeth who married Miles Morgan. Another daughter, Hannah, died in 1661.

Widow Margaret Bliss' land was between George Langdon and Joseph Parsons---so only George Langdon's land was between her land and that of her son Nathaniel. In 1681, Nathaniel's mother, Widow Margarite Bliss, and Samuel Bliss Senior, were named guardians to Samuel Bliss, the son of Lawrence Bliss. The record appears confusing, I quote: " Samuel Bliss the son of Lawrence Bliss being brought before me by his father in law John Norton (I think that means the father who married his mother--from other records I have run across) for disorderly going from him. It appearing that he was not settled with him and that at his coming to him from Goodman Dorchester's he was to be at liberty to go away when it should be judged meete and John Norton was insisting upon his continuance longer, the lad is left to the care and disposure of his guardians he being about 18 years of age; he hath made his choice and doth here publically declare his choice of his grandmother Widow Margarite Bliss and his uncle Samuel Bliss to be his guardians who appearing also and accepting thereof are accordingly allowed and declared the guardians of Samuel Bliss."

BIG INCREASE IN TRIPLE A PARTICIPATION

190,000 Kansas Farmers Sign For 1942 Program

Manhattan, Kansas, September 24—Reports from County AAA committees in Kansas, just released by Roy C. Wilson, Chairman of the Kansas State AAA Committee, show that 190,000 Kansas farmers signed their intention to participate in the 1942 Triple A wheat program by the closing date of August 30. This compares with 157,000 wheat growers signing up a year ago for the 1941 program.

The prospect of marketing quota restrictions in 1942 has been responsible for a portion of this increase, but Wilson is of the opinion that more wheat producers than ever before realize the necessity of controlling wheat production in line with the limited market available.

He called attention to the 1,319 million bushel wheat supply that the United States has on hand for the 1941-1942 marketing year which he says, "Is there enough wheat to last this country for two years if not a kerney was produced in 1942."

"While the National Defense Program is calling for more pork, dairy and poultry products, more wheat added to the huge supplies now on hand would only overflow storage facilities and hamper the defense effort," says Wilson. He urges wheat growers to use acres retired from wheat production to produce livestock feeds that can be utilized for increased production of the needed food products.

Wheat marketing quotas for 1942 have already been proclaimed and farmers will likely have an opportunity to vote on them at a referendum to be held next spring. If quotas are approved Wilson expects a wheat loan program in 1942 similar to the one now in effect.

SPOHRER GARAGE INSTALLS HYDRAULIC LIFT

After remodeling the workshop at Spohrer Garage a new hydraulic lift has been installed in the northwest corner of the shop.

Complete equipment will be installed for car washing and greasing in the interior of the shop.

Several sky windows have been added to facilitate lighting.

FAMILY SEPARATED FOR FIRST TIME; EXCEPT DEATH

For the first time, except by death, the George Emmons family, in which there were twelve children, will be separated with the departure of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Bills for Sand Point, Idaho.

The Emmons family has never been separated only a distance of several hundred miles and could be brought together on short notice.

This is a very unique distinction for a large family of brothers and sisters, which at one time numbered twelve, the circle being broken only by death.

CULTIVATE BINDWEED EARLY

"When is the best time to cultivate bindweed?" This question has been asked numerous times and it is a good question. Bindweed should be cultivated for eradication soon after it first comes up or before the plant is eight days old in order to keep the cost as low as possible. It has been proved by actual experience that more damage is done to the root system when the plant is destroyed at 7 or 8 days of age. By watching the patch carefully several cultivations may be saved during the year.

..Due to more rain fall this year than usual some of the bindweed under cultivation has been sadly neglected. By all means do not get discouraged but contiaue cultivating this fall as the growth if left go will build up the root system faster than the early spring growth.

Cultivated patches should be worked to controle erosion as much as possible by working the ground on the contour. The run-off water from other parts of the field should be turned away from these patches as the loose ground will wash very easily cutting ditches and carrying the seed if there is any, to other places with the possibility of starting other patches.

It is a good policy to list the ground this fall after the bindweed has stopped growing to help controle erosion during the winter months.

The bindweed program was set up to assist the people in eradicating bindweed and thru years of experience gained thru actual eradication of bindweed by different methods in Norton County and practically all over the state of Kansas we are always glad to discuss your bindweed problems and recommend the most economical means for eradication of each patch or patches of bindweed or any other weed that we have any information on. Days in the office of the County Engineer are Thursday and Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Laura McKim was honor guest Sunday at a dinner served at the Lenora Coffee Shoppe in honor of her birthday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Heitman, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan McKim of Salina, Dr. and Mrs. Ora Rutherford of Christopher, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Montie Poague and Janice of Wakeeney.

Floyd Hayes of Lynn, Kansas, arrived in Norton Sunday morning several hours before the death of his mother, Mrs. John Hayes.

It was pointed out, however, that those farmers interested, should make inquiry as soon as possible, to see if they are eligible as it takes about ten days to receive the check after the application is completed.

MANNIE DUNLAP DIES SUDDENLY SATURDAY

Dies Saturday Noon Following Mornings Work in Field

Mannie Dunlap, 55, died suddenly Saturday noon following a mornings work in the field, presumably from a heart attack.

Mr. Dunlap had been a resident of New Almelo and community for many years and was well-known in that community as well as in Lenora.

OBITUARY

Mannie Dunlap

Mannie Dunlap, son of James and Mary Dunlap was born at Evergreen, Colorado, March 16, 1886, and answered the final summons, September 18, 1941, at his home near New Almelo at the age of fifty-five years, six months and seven days.

He was the third child in a family of five children—there being four sons and one daughter. At the age of eleven years he was completely orphaned, and his home afterwards was sometimes with relatives at other times with friends—here and there, wherever it seemed best for him to reside. One can imagine the hunger in his young heart during those formative years, for the guidance and protection of a father, and a mother's loving care.

On March 1, 1910 he was united in marriage to Anna Kinser. To this union five children were born: four daughters and a son. They are: Ray of Pueblo, Colorado; Reba Stanley of Wichita, Kansas; Wanda Brown of Hill City Kansas; Irene Allen of Jennings, Kansas and Neta Chandler of Almena, Kansas. He answered the name grandfather to seven grandsons and three granddaughters.

His tender regard for little children was phenomenal—not only for those of his own blood, but to all who crossed his path. He and his wife at various times have received into their home and cared for from one to several children where death disease or disaster had visited their own homes, and Mannie was as kind and solicitious toward these as though they were his own.

As a neighbor he was superb, when he did a days work there was no shirking—he did it faithfully and well.

His occupation was farming and through all these years of depression and drouth he has bravely carried on buoyed by the hope that better times were ahead.

His devoted wife, his five children and his ten grandchildren feel their loss most keenly, and he will be sadly missed by all with whom he was accustomed to mingle.

Funeral services were conducted from the Church of Christ at Allison Kansas, by Rev. Glenn H. Jackson, of Lenora, and interment was made in the Allison Cemetery, Monday afternoon, September 15, 1941.

The funeral was directed by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard A. Cutting of Lenora. The pallbearers were Artie Teol, Raymond Shipley, Johnnie Follis, Ed Shoemaker, Mark Beckman and Leo Otter. The songs were sung by Mrs. Harry Simpson Mrs. Chas. Boulls Willard Carter and Rodney Scott with Minta Bartley as accompanist.

Highest Prices for Your Poultry

...end of such period present to the Commission and accurate accounting of the revenue and expenses over this trial period.

While their is no doubt revenue has been more during the past six months, than in any such six month period in previous years due to the improved crop conditions, it is doubtful if passenger income has increased to any great extent.

Whether or not, the extensive repair and rebuilding work that has been in progress up and down the line between Lenora and Downs will "figure" in the expense account presented at the hearing remains in the dark.

While a small amount of maintenance has been done on the branch, not near enough was done to maintain the road in condition for the heavy wheat traffic which the road experience during harvest in this section.

While this extra expense will be added to the Motor car service or placed in the "freight" column remains to be heard.

From a business standpoint, it would seem inadvisable to discontinue service now, for the country as a whole is in better economic condition today than it has been in the past ten years.

The hour of the hearing has been set for 9:00 a.m.

ANDREW EVERTTS DIES AT BROTHER'S HOME

Andrew Evertts, former resident of Norton County, died suddenly at the home of a brother in Indiana Sunday.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday afternoon from the Andrew Long home at 2:00 o'clock and burial will be made in the Getty" Cemetery.

ANDREW ACE EVERTTS

Hi Carolyn:

I will try to decipher my notes - my pencil lead was pretty thck, so it is rather hard to read. But here goes:

We did find Uncle Andrew's grave after some traveling down gravel roads and inquiring of local residents. Gettis Cemetery, established in 1880 is located ~~as you said~~ between roads ? 383 and 9. Clayton to the north, and Amelo to the south.
This is a well-kept cemetery sitting out alone on a dirt road. The stones are very legible. There is a small building at the rear center which houses tools to care for the area.

The stone reads: Vinnie E., wife of A. A. Evertts, born November 6, 1866 - died Dec. 18, 1914.Uncle Andrew: Andrew A. ~~Everts~~, born March 14, 1863-died September 14, 1941. There is a small stone with no name which bears the inscription: Infant son of A. A. and V. E. Evertts.

From the Court House of Norton County: Homesteaded 120 acres on 10-~~15-8~~ 25, 1897, filed 9-16-1899, Patent Book 51 pg. 343: N Sect. 4, Twp. 5. Amelo Teys, Owner(??) Buried in Noble Twp. (??)

There was a deed showing that W. H. Dietrich, Executor on 7-2-1943, sold to Arthur M. Forrell and Ruby his wife for $5,000 the NW qr. Of Sect. 4, Twp. 5, range 25 (didn't get enough info.).

In his will made in 1916 he had 320 acres.

Mrs. Joann Wolf

Norton, Kansas 67654

Dear Mrs. Wolf:

Than you so much for the information on my Uncle Andrew Evertts. (Most of the family here spell the name "Everetts".) I will be passing the material on to my niece Carolyn Rensch Cripe, 940 North, 200 West, Angola, IN 46703.

Carolyn is doing extensive genealogy on family. Uncle Andrew left Indiana as a young man and came back for the Everetts reunion each year via train. At this time we have no knowledge how he chose Kansas. But after our visit to his grave we drove into the town of Norton, and were so impressed with the friendly people - at the court house and the library - we could readily understand his choice.

We were able to copy his will and the probate records. And now with your information and our picture of the gravesite, our niece should be well on her way.

Thank you so much! Enclosed is a check to help you in your work.

Soincerely,

Betty R. McCollum

Bio graphy of Elizabeth Stark The latest year of birth for Elizabeth Stark would have been about 1773 based on her marriage to Micah Lambert April 19, 1688.[Note 10] The Elizabeth "Start" in this marriage record is most likely Elizabeth Stark, and would have to have been the daughter of Aaron and Sarah Stark. This speculated year of birth would presume she was at least 15 years old when they married. Elizabeth and Micah had one daughter named Michel Lambert born July 18, 1689 who married Peter Williams. Michael Lambert was a carpenter by trade and contracted to build the Ministers house for the Preston Congregational Church in North New London County, January 13, 1689/90.[Note 10a] The couple lived in Preston during the construction. Lambert completed this project and then probably died sometime before March 3, 1693. Charles R. Stark relates Elizabeth married Josiah Haines on this date and the record can be found in the Groton, New London County, CT Vitals, Vol. 1 pg 102.[Note 11] Josiah Haines is reported to be the Uncle of Elizabeth's niece in 1705 which seems to prove he was married to this Elizabeth Stark, daughter of Aaron Stark, Sr.. [Note 9]Josiah and Elizabeth (Stark) Haines had children named, 1) Elizabeth born March 7, 1694 who married ???? Phillops, 2) Anne born November 3, 1696 who married Nathaniel Brown, 3) Josiah, Jr. born January 8, 1698/9, 4) Joshua born August 27, 1701, 5) Caleb born February 2, 1703, 6) Kaziah born June 7, 1705 who married ???? Streat, 7) Comfort born August 2, 1711, and 8) Deborah. [Note 11]According to CRS, the first four children were born in Preston and are recorded in those records pointing to the family living in this area for a period of time. We know by 1705 they are again living in Groton.9 The birth date of Deborah was not recorded. However, as will be shown, she is mentioned in the will of Elizabeth as, "my loved daughter Deborah Haines". [Note 12] Some time before November 23, 1721, Josiah Haines died, for Elizabeth and her son Josiah Haines, Jr. sold some property where they were recorded as executor and executrix of the estate of the late Josiah Haynes. Elizabeth married Nehemiah Smith September 7, 1724 when he was 79 years old. CRS relates, " The marriage to Justice Nehemiah Smith was an old-age marriage, he being in his seventy-ninth year. He endowed her (Elizabeth) by jointure agreement with one hundred pounds current bills of credit of New England, payable within one year of the date of the marriage. Justice Smith was prominent in the affairs of New London before Groton became a town, and upon organization of the latter he was chosen third townsman. He also served as town clerk, justice of the peace, and in other positions." [Note 11]Elizabeth Stark's will was prepared and signed September 22, 1739 and probated December 31, 1739 under the name Elizabeth Smith, Nehemiah having died August 8, 1727. Therefore, she probably died sometime between these dates. Her sons in the will are mentioned as Josiah Haines and Caleb Haines and from this will we find her daughters were Michel (Lambert) Williams, Caziah (Haines) Streat, Elizabeth (Haines) Phillop, Anne (Haines) Brown, and Deborah Haines. BURIAL GROUNDS.

There are three burial grounds connected with the church and are designated in this transcript as (1) Old graveyard, (2) 2d graveyard, and (3) Cemetery.

1. The old graveyard, in the southern corner of which stands the church building, was, no doubt, opened as a burial place while the first church building was being erected, which building is supposed to have stood in the northern corner of the graveyard, as that part appears to be without graves.

In this graveyard are about 200 graves marked by tombstones and apparently half that number without markers, making a total of about 300 graves.

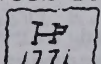
The oldest tombstone (a sandstone with a face in relief at the top) appears to be that of JOHN MARTIN PFATTEICHER (Potteiger) and his wife Anna Barbara, both of whom died in April, 1761. The stone, which contains the inscriptions of both parents, was erected in 1761 by the four surviving children.(See page 315.)

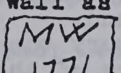
The latest burials therein appear to be those of SARAH FILBERT (born Batheiger (Potteiger))(1809-1886), wife of John Filbert (1807-1844); and DANIEL HENNE (1827-1894), husband of Mary Eckert. However, as the 2d graveyard was opened in 1847, comparatively few burials were made in the Old graveyard during the last 50 years, and most of those were made in case of close family ties, one or more of a family having been previously buried there.

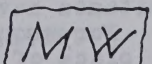
A small piece of ground, forming the extreme eastern portion of this graveyard, was presented, sometime between 1813 and 1847, by John Eckert with the privilege of using it as a burial place. The principal burials on this portion are Eckerts and intermarriages with that name.

The old graveyard, during part of its history, was surrounded by a stone wall, that on the eastern side having been removed.

The wall along the road, or southern side, appears to have been constructed about 1771, as stones with that year cut therein are part of the wall. Three stones with initials and year have been found in this wall as follows:







It is pretty certain that the initials, H.F., stand for Henry Fidler, who was one of the influential members of the church at that time, the name having descended through subsequent generations.

The initials, M.W., are, without doubt, those of MATTHIAS WENRICH, which name, through several generations, was very prominently connected with the church. It is quite probably that the two sets of initials, M.W., represent father and son.

The wall along the western side of the old graveyard appears to have been built about 1791, as a stone therein contains initials and year as follows:

17 . H K . 91

The initials, H.K., in all probability refer to HENRY KNOB, as that is the only name with those initials contained in a list of contributors to the salary of Rev. Schulze for the year 1791.

BURIAL GROUNDS.

Nothing has been found to indicate the time of the construction of the walls along the northern and eastern sides of this graveyard. The wall along the eastern side, from the corner of the church building northward, was taken away some time between 1860 and 1870, and a picket-fence put in its place. About the same time, the stones of this wall were used in the construction of the retaining wall at the church, and an iron fence set thereon.

A number of the graves in the old graveyard are marked by sandstones, of which six or seven contain no trace of inscriptions; and as these stones are very hard, it is likely that no inscriptions had been cut thereon, although originally they may have had inscriptions that were put on by some process.

Some of the inscriptions are showing the effects of age, and several more decades of wind, rain, frost, heat, and cold, in case of the softer sandstones, will render them well nigh illegible. In fact, some of the inscriptions are already so weather-worn that they were read with difficulty, and, in three instances, could not be deciphered intelligently. In a few other cases parts of dates or names are doubtful.

With the exception of the three inscriptions that could not be deciphered, the information contained on the tombstones of the old graveyard, is given under TOMBSTONE INSCRIPTIONS, following this article, the different inscriptions being marked in brackets, (Old graveyard).

Of the marble tombstones, a number are large and contain quite an amount of information. The inscriptions, as a rule, are nicely cut.

As already stated, possibly 100 graves are unmarked. Of these quite a number are near the western front of the church building, as indicated by ridges and furrows. Might it not have happened that during the building operations of the present edifice, in 1814-17, the tombstones were removed and were not replaced afterwards?

Some of these unmarked graves are, no doubt, the resting places of the bodies of a number of the early settlers of that locality, as only a few tombstones relating to those first inhabitants have been found.

For about one century the old graveyard served as the burial place of the members of the Lutheran Congregation of Heidelberg.

2. The 2d graveyard appears to have been opened in 1847 on a part of the land bought by the congregation, in April of that year, from John L. Fisher. About 20 years afterward, an extension was made to this graveyard from part of an acre purchased in August, 1866, from Joseph Wenrich.

Among the very earliest burials therein, was that of Mrs. CATHARINE BENNETSCH (born Ulrich), born May 15,1774, and died June 13,1847, followed the next spring by her husband, HENRY BENNETSCH, born Dec.3,1771, and died April 9,1848.

Almost all the graves in this graveyard are marked by tombstones of marble or granite.

3. After the 2d graveyard had served as a burial place for one generation, the cemetery was opened, in 1880, on a portion of 4 acres bought in April of that year from Adam S. Valentine. The first burial therein was that of Mrs. HARRIET SHEETZ (born Deppen), wife of William Scheets (1818-85). She was born May 14, 1822, and died May 9,1880.

TOMBSTONE INSCRIPTIONS.
Introductory Remarks.

The inscriptions of about 475 tombstones of the three burial grounds at St. Daniel's Church were copied by the compiler of this transcript, and the information entered under some 600 names. Of this number of names, about 125 are those of persons for whom no tombstones have been found or several of whom may still be living, but whose names appear on tombstones of other persons as

(1) Husband of deceased wife;
(2) wife of deceased husband; or
(3) Parent of deceased child.

As stated in the article, BURIAL GROUNDS, the inscriptions of all the tombstones in the old graveyard, excepting about 10, have been copied. These tombstones number possible a few more than 200, and among the inscriptions transcribed therefrom there are also given the names of several persons who are known to be buried in that graveyard but whose graves are unmarked.

With regard to the cemetery and 2d graveyard, only the tombstones of persons born prior to 1830 were considered, except

(1) In case of children whose tombstones contained the names of parents that were born prior to 1830;
(2) In case of persons 70 or more years of age; and
(3) In case of a few persons born between (1830 and 1840, for genealogical purposes.

The inscriptions of about 220 tombstones in the 2d graveyard and of 55 in the cemetery have been transcribed.

Carolyn, your first entry on page 122 is Benneville Putt (1820)...this was my William's second born son, after Edward J (1819), who you have mentioned on page 119. Do you have any other entries for the family around this one? It doesn't mention William at all, but Williams' wife was Catherine Hoffman. William and Catherine had Edward and Benneville right before they moved further west into Lebanon County and finally to Dauphin County, PA. They were probably married at St. Daniel's as well. I had approximate dates for the birth of both Edward and Benneville, but not exact dates until now. So this is a big help for me in tracing my line.

This means that my Putt's were definitely members of this church and there would most likely be more records for possibly William and/or Catherine's family, the Hoffmans. It may also mean that William's father, Jacob, would be mentioned somewhere.

Thanks again :)

Chris

Descendants of Thomas WHEADON or WHEDON or WHEATON

Updated 22 September 2010

Generation No. 1

1. Thomas WHEADON or WHEDON or[1] WHEATON[1] was born Abt. 1635 in in the vicinity of Axminster, Devon, England (or 1628 Russell DEAR)[2,3], and died 16 October 1691 in (New Haven), New Haven, Connecticut, USA[4,5]. He married Mary Ann SMALL 24 May 1661 in New Haven, New Haven, Connecticut, USA[6]. She was born Abt. 1633 in England[6,7], and died 1692 in Branford, New Haven, Connecticut, USA[8].

Notes for Thomas WHEADON or WHEDON or WHEATON:

W350 WHEADON, Thomas BRANFORD

Information from George W PAGE 4 May 2002, 8 May 2002, 21/12/2003,
He was NOT the son of Thomas WHITON who m. Winyfride HARDING on 22 Nov. 1639 in Plymouth, Mass.

"WHEDON, THOMAS, New Haven, had been bound apprentice in England to John MEIGS just before coming to learn his art of tanner, "Thomas WHEDON the grandfather of Hannah WHEDON came to New Haven with John MEIGS who, in 1648, bought the lot on the corner of Chapel and Church Streets, where the Cutler building now stands. Before leaving England Thomas WHEDON had been bound to MEIGS as an apprentice to learn his art of tanner

John MEIGS is the important clue to the origin of Thomas WHEADON:
Vincent MEGGS and His Sons
Vincent MEGGS (#1) was the first member of the "family" in America. He came to America with his sons Vincent, Jr. (#2), John (#3) and Mark (#4). It was his son John who changed the spelling of the family name to MEIGS. The reason for the change is unknown today. The name is still pronounced MEGGS.

ORIGINS
Vincent has been located among the Bishop's Transcripts of the parish of Chardstock, Dorset. These records commence in 1579, and extend with few breaks through 1641. Douglas RICHARDSON of Tucson, AZ, was surprise in 1991 to find the baptism records for three children of Vincent's while searching these transcripts. The record also provides us, for the first time, the given name of MEGGS' wife, Emma. These three entries read as follow:

16 Apr.1610 Marie the daughter of Vincent & Em MAGGS baptized
29 Jan.1612/3 John the sonne of Vincent & Em MAGGS baptized
25 August 1616 Marke the sonne of Vincent & Em MAGGS baptized

A further mention of Vincent comes from the records of Axminster, Devon, England, which is an adjacent parish to Chardstock. There one Vincent MAGGS is appointed the overseer of the will of John MAGGS. The will was proved in the Court of the Archdeaconry of Exeter on 17 September 1632 with the only surviving abstract in the collection of Sir Oswin MURRAY held at the West Country Studies Library at Exeter. The will reads:

"Will of John MAGGS of Axminster, 1632:
I John MAGGS of Axminster, husbandman. To my daughter Alice, if she marry to the liking of her mother and brother Stephen, 20 marks. To my daughter Jane, 20 marks when 18. To my daughter Elizabeth, 20 marks when 18. To my children John[,] Emmet and Joan, 20 marks each. To John HORE, son of Constantine HORE and Agness my daughter £4 when 14. The rest to Agnis, my wife, and Stephen my son, executors; overseers: Vincent MAGGS, Thomas LOVINGE; witnesses: Edward STAPLE, Wm STEART.
Proved 17 Sept. 1632.

From records found at the Devon, England, Record Officer in the PETRE Family records, it appears that Vincent MEGGS was an Innkeeper, moving from Chardstock to Axminster in 1617 to become landlord of the Angel Inn. There is no Angle Inn in Axminster today. Research might be able to trace its site, or even the building. These records also indicate the Vincent MEGGS at times used the alias Vincent LOVE and at other times was known as Vincent LOVE alias Vincent MEGGS. It would be worthwhile searching records for the LOVE alias MEGGS surname elsewhere in England.

JOHN MEIGS
John MEIGS is recorded on February 24, 1644 in New Haven, CT, as having been admitted a member of the court, and the same year is admitted a freeman. In 1648 he bought the lot known in recent history as "Cutler Corner,"
The conveyance of this property is on record and reads: "William JEANES passeth over to John MEGGS his house and house lot lying on the corner over against the house of John BUDD, and the highway." MEIGS owned this property for 10 years before giving it to the town in 1658. John appears in the court records of New Haven throughout 1645, 1646, 1647, and 1648. On December 5, 1648, New Haven Court, Richard PERRY declared that MEIGS had not delivered the 10 bushel of wheat ordered by the court earlier. The court ordered MEIGS to hand over the wheat and "for the contemptuous cariage of John MEGGS to the court in refusing to fulfill their order in the attachment laid upon the corn the court fined him xx." John also appears in the records on January 6, 1662, about a debt he claimed from the Estate of Thomas JEFFRIES.

John was a tanner, currier and shoemaker. On March 3, 1653/4 he was admitted to Guilford as a planter on his buying a 100lb. allotment at Hammonassett (Hammonassett became East Guilford and is now Madison).
John also purchased from the agent of Thomas JONES, on March 4, 1667/8, the land on the east side of Guilford Green.

John later moved to Killingworth, CT., where he died on January 2, 1672. He married Thomasine FRYE, daughter of William FYE (emigrated to Weymouth MA about 1636) in England about 1632.

From the above we can deduce that Thomas WHEADON was b. in Devon, probably in or near Axminster, about the year 1635. As he was apprenticed at about the age of 9 before he left England with John MEIGS, I would guess that he was an orphan.

Information from Russell DEAR 22/6/2010
Thomas WHEDON, who died in 1691, was another early Colonial Settler of the general era of Henry BURT and Edward LACY. The family name of WHEADON was changed to WHEATON later, about 1755. As connecticut was first settled in 1632 to 1635, and had a population of only 3,000 as late as 1643, it is apparent that Thomas was one of the early settlers.

He settled in Branford, Connecticut shortly after it was founded in 1644. Branford was and is cloely associated with the town of New Haven. Despite ambitions of it's founders the town of the new Haven jurisdiction were never more than small agricultural comunities in a region not well adapted for agricultural purposes. There were tanneries and one iron works but most manufacturing was done in the barns of the workmen.

Information from George W PAGE 4 May 2002, 8 May 2002, 21/12/2003,
Thomas took Oath of Fidelity 1657 in New Haven 7 February 1657 [Records of the Colony of New Haven 1638-1649, p. 140].

He was "of New Haven" on 20 Apr 1658 when he bought lands in Branford (LR1:275-6). He was living in Branford by Jan. 20, 1667 when he signed the New Plantation and Church Covenant. ("Early Records of Branford, now Branford, CT" "Genealogies of Connecticut Families" Vol. III P-W, p. 465-468]. He was there in Mar 1668/9 when he helped build a dam there (LR1:354).

Married 24 May 1661, Ann Harvey (sic, Small), at New Haven; She was 28 years old and was NOT Anne HARVEY.
"HARVEY: Francis HARVEY a Frenchman, desired to marry Ann SMALL servant of Mr. YALE Jan. 1660, but Court approved not ... Ann m. 24 May 1661 NHV (New Haven Vital Records) Thomas WHEATON. [Donald Lines JACOBUS" Families of Ancient New Haven, "1974, p. 722 Vol, I (Rome, NY: Clarence D. SMITH 1923), p. 722.].

From "WHEATON Family" by Earnest WHEATON: Anne HARVEY may have been a widow whose maiden name was Ann SMALL, daughter of Francis Small. New Haven Town Rec pp. 426-27, Dec 1659 - Jan 1659/60: At a Court held at New Haven the 3rd of Jan 1659. Francis HARVEY, a Frenchman, upon summons appearing, was told that he was to give answer concerning a treaty of marriage with a maid, carried on as its understood & as they both have confessed, to the engaging of themselves to one another, & without consent of parents of governor, contrary to a law here published, which was read, & they both were told that they had directly broke the law. To which he answered that there was no such law in the places where he hath been, nor did he know that there was any such law here; he was told that excuses him not, and that he must (if he live here) acquaint himself with the Laws established and submit to them. Ann SMALL was asked what she said to it having hired herself a servant for a year, she should within a month enter a treaty of marriage with a man, without consents of master, contrary to the Law. Ann SMALL pleaded that she was both ignorant of the Law & the breach of it, & that she intended to serve out her time with her Master; but Mr. YALE her Master, said that she had within a short time after she came to him, moved to be free; to which it was said that was the fruit of such treaties, that having got a suit of clothes of her master, by and by she would be gone from him & engage herself to a man, without the consent of her mother, who she confessed was living, for ought she knew, to whom it would be a great grief to hear of her irregular proceedings. Mr. YALE informed that the carriage of Ann SMALL was very burdensome to them, not only in respect of that particular before spoken of, but also she was a notorious liar & unfaithful, concerning which he declared that there lodging a woman of Connecticut at his house, she left a small scarf behind her, which sometime after was inquired for by John BENHAM to which Ann SMALL presently answered that there was none left there; but upon that occasion he asked his maid where she had that scarf which she wore; to which she answered that she had it when she lived with her master TOMPSON but she did not wear it because she thought it would be trouble to her dame & that she left it with Goodwife MALLERY who since sent it to her by John WAKEFIELD's daughter; whereupon he inquired of Goodwife WAKEFIELD & Goodwife MALLERY growing suspicious of Ann SMALL asked him if he brought any children's gloves out of England; he told her, yes; she told him that his maid had given her a pair of kid gloves, which gloves upon inquiry at home he found that she had stolen from him; besides other things are gone, but how he knows not. Ann SMALL was asked if this that was spoken by her master was true; she said yes; she was told that she had the more cause to be ashamed: she was asked what else she had taken from her master, being other things are wanting; she said that she had nothing else but the gloves...Page 428 Francis HARVEY was told that he had broken the law by his irregular proceeding in this treaty of marriage with Ann SMALL & thereby he falls under the fine of 40, that must forthwith be paid & that the court had little encouragement to give liberty for him to settle here. Ann SMALL was also reproved for her impudent & insensibility under such miscarriages, & sentenced to pay 10 as fine for her lying; as for stealing the scarf, she is to pay 2, and 12, for the gloves; for her other miscarriages, it was declared that she deserves corporal punishment, which the Court will take their time to consider of, which she must expect unless her better carriage prevent it. Mr. YALE desired that he might be freed of Ann SMALL who has carried it so unsatisfyingly in his family; but no place being propounded to the satisfaction of the court, she left with Mr. YALE until further order.

New Haven Town Records Feb 1659/60: Francis HARVEY & Ann SMALL who were both fined the last Court, their fines being demanded; they were told that the Court approved not their going on in that league which had been witnessed against; Francis was warned to remove out of town this spring; he said he was sorry for what he had done, & desired that he might stay.

Mr. YALE is Thomas YALE was born in Denbighshire Wales. His mother's (Anne Yale EATON) second husband was Theophilus EATON, Governor of New Haven Colony. Ann SMALL's marriage to Thomas WHEATON occured 4 months after the court disallowed her marriage to HARVEY. March was the first month of the year, so May 24, 1661 would have been 4 months later. I am writing up a family history on this family unit, and am doing a "chapter" on their servants, and other people that lived in their households. I cannot find another person or family named SMALL in Jacobus, which is a very comprehensive work. So I am thinking that Ann SMALL was maybe indentured, and because indentured servants were not allowed to marry without the "permission" of the Court before their contract of servitude was up.

Biography of William H. Wilsey, page 597. History of De Kalb County, Indiana. Inter-State Publishing Company, Chicago, 1885.

William H. Wilsey, farmer and stock-raiser, was born in Greene County, N.Y., July 10, 1821, a son of Isaac and Jane (Carpenter) Wilsey, the former a native of New York, of Holland descent, and the latter of Puritan ancestry. When he was a child his parents moved to New Jersey, and in 1839 to Tompkins County, N. Y., where he lived till 1845, when he came to Indiana and entered forty acres of Government land in De Kalb County. He built a small cabin into which he moved his family, and began to make a home out of a tract of timber land. He cleared and cultivated his land, and by industry and good management has been successful, and has added to his land till he now owns 120 acres all well improved. He has erected good buildings on his farm, and has one of the pleasantest and most convenient homes in the township. He was married Jan. 25, 1843, to Ursula Jane Haskins, a native of Rutland County, Vt., daughter of Aris and Sarah (Warner) Haskins. They have had a family of eight children but four of whom are living---Mary Jane, wife of George W. Anstett; Elizabeth Ann, wife of Walter W. Crise; John W. and Henry E. Sarah M., Sarah H., Charles L., and Frank E. are deceased. He has served his township two terms as Trustee. Mrs. Wilsey is a member of the Evangelical church.

Subject: Putt DNA Results

From: Mark R. Putnam (markrputnam@hotmail.com)

To: carolyn_cripe@yahoo.com;

Date: Friday, March 2, 2012 6:07 PM

Hi Carolyn,

The results are now in the database.

Nicolas has the following sequence:

228126 Mr. Nicholas Paul Putt R1b1a2 13 24 15 10 12-14 12 12 12 14 13 31

The results are at the following link: http://www.worldfamilies.net/surnames/putnam/results

The patriarch page is at the following link: http://www.worldfamilies.net/surnames/putnam/pats

What the results mean is that you have a somewhat similar DNA to the New England, the Southern US, and the French-American Putman families; however, this is a very, very large group of people, and you are not closely matched it would seem to either family within the last 3,000 years or so is my guess.

Your family is not related to my family, which is I1. Although we may have lived in nearly the same place, our families are not related.

Just today, I corresponded with a Mr. Pottman whose father was born about 1945 in Germany. The son lives in the United States. I asked him if he would like to have a test done. He could be I1 or R1b or another type.

If you have more Pennyslvania Putt's take the DNA test, you will be able to determine whether you are related to them. That would be nice.

The RIb haplotype is seem most commonly in England, Ireland, and Scotland although possibly 1/2 of those in northwestern Europe have the R1b haplotype.

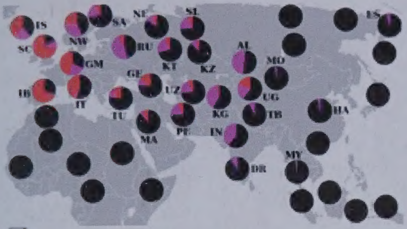
When we get other European Putt's, Pottman's, and Puttman's to take the test as will eventually be the case the picture for all these families will be much more clearer.

In general I would say that in England and northwest Europe, there is a 3/4 chance a person is R1b, and a 1/4 change they are I1.

I1 is the "Anglo-Saxon" or "Viking" DNA.

Mark

Wikpedia says the following . . .:



Distribution of R1a (purple) and R1b (red).

R1b

Main article: Haplogroup R1b (Y-DNA)

Haplogroup R1b predominates in Western Europe. It can be found at high frequency in Bashkortostan (Russia).[20] Low frequency in Central Asia, Middle East, South Asia as well as North Africa. There is an isolated pocket of R1b in Sub Saharan Africa.[21]

R1b is thought to have originated in Central Asia, the Middle East, or Anatolia. It is prolific in Western Europe, where frequencies of 70% or more have been found in populations from Ireland,[12] Spain,[11] and the Netherlands,[11] according to the Genographic Project conducted by the National Geographic Society.[22]

It is also found in Bashkortostan where its frequency surpasses 84%.[20] It is also present at lower frequencies throughout Eastern Europe.[23]

Although it is rare in South Asia, some populations show relatively high percentages for R1b. These include Lambadi (Andhra Pradesh) showing 37%,[24] Hazara 32%[25] and Agharia (East India) at 30%.[25] Besides these, R1b has appeared in Balochi (8%), Chenchu (2%), Makrani (5%), Newars (Nepal) (10.6%), Pallan (3.5%), Pathan (10%), Punjabi (7.6%) and West Bengalis (6.5%).[24][25][26]

It is also found in North Africa where its frequency surpasses 10% in some parts of Algeria.[27]

Daniel's parents were Levi Jacob Putt (b. March 3, 1834, Heidelberg TWP, Berks Co. PA) and Susanna D. Peter (b. October 22, 1840, Aloise TWP Berks Co., PA & d. November 2, 1903, Berks Co., PA) They were married March 28, 1858 in Berks Co. Susanna is buried in Aulenbach Cemetery so I assume Daniel is also. I don't have a death date for Daniel but it was after 1903.

My mother is doing fine. She turned 80 this year and is perking right along. She has to use a walker now but other than that is doing well. She still sews a lot. The woman is an artist with a needle! She does counted cross stitch pieces that look like paintings. The darn things belong in a museum. She also recently redressed an old doll (from around 1910) that came down in my husband's family and it's lovely. Neither my sister or myself inherited her talent. If I need a button replaced I send it to the cleaners to have it done. My daughter is quite "crafty" though so maybe she got that gene. Mom is also having fun with her computer. A couple of years ago when I got a new one I gave them my old Packard Bell. Now she says she doesn't know what she would do without it. Mostly she uses it for games like solitaire but she also has e-mail. She checks it but never answers any messages except from Uncle Gene only he never sends her any.

I guess I have had an interesting life. I never looked at it that way. It sort of just happened. I was in the Navy from August 1959 to August 1964 and was a second class electronics technician when I got out. It's amazing to look back at how things were then for women vs. how they are now. When I was in there were 19 female ETs in the whole Navy and now women serve on ships. I guess you, your sisters and I can be proud that we did our little bit for womankind. And you should meet my daughter! Anyone who messes with her comes up short.

As far as the family tree goes, most of what Gayle has on the Putt side she got from me. Irvin was into family history and collected quite a bit of information back in the 50's and 60's. I got in contact with his daughter (Carol Sue) and she gave me his folder. She also loaned me a notebook that belonged to Daniel Putt, and it was crammed full of old obits and also listed all the children's births, christenings, etc. I had to give it back but I did copy everything. Maybe some day she will give it to me to keep. She doesn't have any children and she and her brother can't stand each other. One of the treasures I do have is Susanna Peter Putt's prayer book. She has her maiden name written in it and she was married in 1858 so it's pretty old. It's in mint condition and written in German. I shared everything I had with David Parsons. Last year when we came through Indianapolis we spent an entire afternoon together sharing pictures, etc. I have quite a few scanned but need to get some more done and put them up on the Putt site. David has done a great job with getting it started and getting the word out about it. Anyway it is on my "to do" list.

Well so much for my nattering. I hope lots of people respond to your idea about sharing who we are. It's really too bad that we are all so spread out because it would be nice to have a big family reunion sometime. They had one for my father's family last year over labor day and it was great. His family settled in Shelby county, IL in the 1850's and were farmers. They had the reunion in Windsor and one of the things they did was pass out maps so we could go around and find where our ancestors lived, went to church and were buried. We actually saw the church pews that were made by my great-great-grandfather and his sons. It was really neat. It was also a ton of work! Unfortunately the Putts (at least my grandfather and his brothers and sister) didn't seem to be realy close to each other. Grandpa used to visit Aunt Susie once in a while but I don't remember him ever mentioning his brothers at all. Sad.

Oh well,
Keep in touch
Mary

Hi Sandy...

I don't know exactly how to send this to everyone but maybe you can forward it for us.

Although I married into the Putt family, I'll tell you what I know! I married Nicholas Paul Putt, son of Gene and Mabel Theobald Putt. Gene is a son of Leon and Sadie Dyke and I believe Leon was a brother to Walter, Sr.

Nick and I married in 1987, he was 32, I was 36. I had been married before but had no children. We had our first child, Nicholas Adam Putt on 11-27-1988. He is now nearly 13 years old, a wonderful son. He's bright, A honors almost every year in elementary school and won the President's Award for Educational Excellence this year. He was in GTE, gifted and Talented education, and next year, when he enters 7th grade, he'll be taking French and algebra. It's an advanced course - kids don't usually take algebra until 9th grade. He's a good, responsible kid, into baseball. We think he'll end up being an engineer like his grandpa Putt.

Our daughter, Emily Tanner Putt, was born on 8-21-90, one day after her Dad's birthday. Nick and his mother, Mabel, share Aug. 20th as their bday. Aug 21st is also Larry Putt's birthday, Nick's brother. Gene's is Aug. 14th so we have a ton of birthdays in August. Emily is a real interesting child. ... free spirit...no two days are the same. She is on A-B honor roll in school, will be in 5th grade this fall. She loves dance, hanging out with her friends., music, etc. This summer, she attended an acting camp at the renowned Playhouse in the Park here in Cincinnati. At the end of the session, the kids all put on a performance for friends and family, a lot of fun.

Nick and I both work for the Drake Center here in Cincy. Nick, after many years in law enforcement (cop and later corrections officer at the State Prison in Lebanon, OH) he's easing back a bit working in hospital security there. Drake is a rehabilitation facility, not a hospital in the normal sense of the word. Although they do have full hospital status they don't do ER work. Most of our patients come there after being discharged from the regular hospitals when they need long term rehab before going home. Many are victims of auto accidents, some shooting victims, strokes, etc. I work in inpatient scheduling. I, along with two other ladies, do all the scheduling of therapy apppointments for the residents. We also set up time for hair appointments, off site doctor appointments, etc. I'm rather new at this and still am learning. It can be overwhelming at times as there are over 200 residents and 30 or so therapists to keep happy! But I am enjoying it so far. I spent my early work life working in medical offices but quit when my kids were small to stay home. I went back to work part time in their school in the cafeteria for a couple of years then the past two years, I did substitute teaching. I enjoyed it a lot, loved being in the school with my kids but there are no summer paychecks for subs so I decided I'd better get a real job! haha.

We currently have two dogs (no cats as Nick is allergic). Mischief, 4 yo, is a Pembroke Welsh Corgi and Smokey, 6 mo., is 3/4 Australian Cattle Dog. We are so in love with that breed that we are awaiting the arrival of a new ACD puppy in late October. We used to raise Corgis but with the advancing age of our dogs, just sort of let it go by the wayside. It was lots of fun but too much work at my age! haha.

That's us in a nutshell. I enjoy learning more about all of the Putt cousins.

Hi Carolyn, it's nice to meet you.

How was the picnic?

Does Ron DeVoe have an e-mail address? I tried to find an address for a Ron DeVoe in Riverside but I only found a Ron DeVoe in Big Bear City, CA. Could that be him? It would be pretty nice to hear from everyone we can, don't you think?

Got a couple grandkids of your own I see. Are they all smart kids like all the rest seem to be? Can't believe how smart these kids are.

Everyone is healthy I take it. I hope so.

Living in an old farmhouse always sounded like it would be so nice. Everything out in the open without a lot of people around. Hopefully those encroachers from Angola will take a LONG time to ready your homestead. That really sounds nice to me. Did you plant Christmas trees? My ex-husband always wanted to get a farm when he retired from the Navy and grow Christmas trees. Don't know what else he would've done but he wanted to grow Christmas trees. He's now working as a contractor fixing Navy equipment at Patuxent River, Maryland. 3 3/4 acres of land is a lot to keep up. Are the wildflowers making a carpet of color for you to see?

You wouldn't believe how pretty the Mojave Desert is in the spring. It's hot and windy in the summer and cold and rainy and snowy in the winter. But in the spring it's just right. You look out and see all those little wildflowers and it looks like a quilt of many colors. Orange, white, yellow, purple, etc. It's really pretty. I couldn't believe it the first time I saw it. I've always liked poppies and that's what makes up the orange color out there. We lived out there in Palmdale when I was in 10th grade (only one year because the job my father was promised didn't pan out). I had to walk across part of the desert to get home and one day I got the scare of my life. A jack-rabbit jumped out right in front of me and ran off. Scared me good. I was always afraid of running into a rattlesnake but thank the good Lord, I never did. Just the thought of that, uhg.

Our weather here has been really strange all summer. We usually get what the call the "June Gloom" during the month of June - it's cloudy, misty, cold, windy and sometimes just plain miserable. Well, it's been like that June and all of July and it's started for August, too. This morning the sun was not out. It was foggy again and so on but the sun came out late morning today and we had a really pretty day. Temperature around 70 and just plain nice. I was in Indianapolis one year during the middle of the summer and at 4:00 in the afternoon it got dark and the street lights went on because of a bad thunderstorm. Do you guys get that a lot? Have you ever seen a tornado? That's what scares me about the mid-West. Tornadoes.

People back East think I'm nuts when I used to tell them that I'd rather take my chances with an earthquake because if I'm gonna get hurt or killed, I'd rather not know it's coming. They said with a tornado or a hurricane you can get away from them. Well, I think that might be so, but the chances are they'll catch up to you before you can get out of their way. And you sit and stew when you hear the warnings. I'd just rather take my chances with the earthquakes. There haven't been any that affected us except for some shaking and things falling off shelves, etc, since we've been in California that I know about. I guess it's all in the place you grew up and what was happening there, huh?

Well, I guess I've bent your ear enough for one night. Have a good day tomorrow and enjoy that neat old farmhouse.

Sandy

Base. While I was in the Navy I met and married John Oscar Ullrich but unfortunately we were divorced 19 years later. He ended up putting 25 years in the Navy and retired in 1985.

I began working in a civilian capacity for the Navy as a Civil Servant at the Naval Air Test Center, Patuxent River, Maryland, and then when the kids and I came back to California, I worked at the Pacific Missile Test Center at Point Mugu, California (just about 7 miles from where we live now). I retired from Civil Service from Point Mugu after 22 total years of U.S. Government service. And as I said, now I work for the District Attorney in Ventura. It's an interesting job, all in all.

Anneliese and I still live together. It's cheaper that way and we don't get on each other's nerves too awfully much. We have two black Cocker Spaniels and they are brother and sister. Their names are Molly and LB (LB for Lazy Bones because that fits him). They're 11 years old in December. Good dogs.

I'll let Pam's kids tell you about themselves and their mother. Also Gerrie can tell you about herself. Wait until you hear about the airplane she's building. They are all on the list of who will get this e-mail as are Pat and Anneliese.

My parents currently live in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. It's in the Idaho panhandle and only about 100 miles, if that, from Canada. They have liked living up there, and Gerrie, Cassie, Anneliese and I were living up there for a while, but they are now trying to sell their place and when they do, they'll be moving back to the San Fernando Valley and live with Gerrie. All of us had to leave and come back to California (except Cassie, she got married up there) for the main reason that we couldn't get a job there.

My mother is going to be 83 next month and my father will be 81 in December. They are still doing good. Nice and healthy as you can be when you're their ages. They're doing extremely well. We can't wait until they get back "home." That's what it feels like coming back to California. We grew up here and everything else seems foreign to me.

Haven't had any big earthquakes around here since that big one in Northridge back in 1994. No fires either, thank goodness. Those brush fires turn into fire storms. Hope we don't have any earthquakes or fires either. Those things are both bad news.

Anneliese and I actually live in a little town called Port Hueneme. Port Hueneme is right on the ocean and we only live approximately two blocks from the ocean so we have some pretty nice weather almost all year. We've had a really cool and chilly summer so far. Overcast a lot and temps in the hi 60's to low 70's. Nice.

I would really like to hear from all of you and I hope you write back and let it go to everyone else. I think it would be nice to get to know some of our family and I hope you do too. Until then, I'll be waiting to hear from you.

Sandy

Sandy,
I don't know how interesting this will be but, I think it is kind of a neat idea to get some inkling about what we are like.

I am the oldest daughter of Mary Agnes Putt and Levy Wayne Tull. My mother is the daughter of Leon Paul Putt, or put another way, your father's cousin. As a matter of fact I have a picture of your grandfather holding both of the babies. (If you want a copy, let me know) They are only a few months apart in age. My mother's brother, Gene Paul Putt is Nicky's father and you have already heard from Gayle.

As for us, my husband and I are both retired. His first retirement was from the Navy as a Chief Radioman. That is where we met. I was in the Navy also, back in the olden days when they called us WAVES. His second career was in telecommunications. I was a chemist and worked for a personal care company here in Chicago. An acquisition gave me the opportunity to take early retirement. That was the best break I ever had in my life. Since we retired, we got the genealogy "bug" in a big way. Most of my family has midwestern roots which works out really well for us. We have always enjoyed making short trips within easy driving range and Walt (my husband) says he can get interested in anything that will keep me out of the antique shops. We still make the trips but we go to cemeteries, libraries and historical societies instead.

As for children, we have two of them. One of each. Our daughter is Mary Colleen (both names please!) Hershey. She is married to an architect who recently started his own firm. (keep fingers crossed, please?) She works part-time for Kraft where she does something mysterious and highly mathematical with market research. They have two boys. Zachary will soon be eight and started second grade last week. Jacob will be six soon and starts kindergarten on Monday. One of the joys of being retired is the ability to spend time with the grandsons. They are soooo different. Both are bright as can be but totally different ways. Zachary is quite serious about life, very good at sports and a rabid Harry Potter fan. Jacob is also good at sports but much more of a free spirit. He played on a soccer team for the first time this summer and his main concern was that his team got a "good color" for their uniforms! He also refuses to wear white socks. In case you're wondering, Zachary has rejected anything but white as being too sissy.

Our son is named Patrick. He is a research chemist for Baxter Healthcare in Round Lake. (that's right outside of Chicago) He isn't married yet but we're hoping to see some action in that arena sometime this decade. I'd like to be able to dance at his wedding but at the rate he's getting there I'll be doing good to make it up the aisle without a walker! He taught a chemistry class at a local junior college this summer and I guess they're going to ask him back. Maybe the exposure to females will do something.

As for the rest of my family I have two brothers and one sister. My sister (Susan) and one brother (Robert) live here in the Chicago area. Sue actually lives with my mother. I have another brother, Wayne who lives in Los Angeles, or at least did the last I heard from him. He's not exactly a reliable correspondent. My relationship with my sister is another of the big benefits of retirement. When I was working I spent way too much time out of town and toward the end, out of the country. Now we find time to do things together. We took a couple of seminar series at the Newberry Library, and have subscription tickets to our Shakespeare Theater--that sort of thing was impossible before.

That about covers it. Not really anything exciting. Oh, I almost forgot the most important members of the family. My husband and I have his and hers dogs. When I was still working he got lonesome I guess so he got a little rat terrier. Tory is a female and weighs in at 12 pounds. She pretty much hates me because she and Walt had a nice life together and then one day I didn't leave--or the next, or the next! Then after a while, I decided I wanted one of Gayle's corgis. So I have a Pembroke Welsh Corgi out of her last litter. Ginger is also female and weighs in a closer to 40 pounds so Tory can't do much to terrorize her. Fortunately Ginger is such a laid-back dog that she doesn't pay much attention to Tory so all the glaring, etc. goes pretty much unnoticed. That covers the household except for the last member. I have canary named Happy. He's a gorgeous singer but the meanest, dirtiest bird I have ever owned. I've pretty much almost always had a canary if possible since my grandmother gave me one for my fourth birthday. I named that one Happy because I had just seen Snow White. Since then, all my canaries have been named Happy. I think this one is Happy VII but I'm not sure.

Looking back, It looks like we are a family of characters and that extends to our pets! Hope this doesn't scare you off. And I hope this is what you are looking for.

Mary

Yes, I found the DeKalb site but didn't have a chance to explore it as much as I want to. I don't know of Benjamin. My information only goes back as far as Jacob. What is Dawne Slater-Putt's line? Do you think we are connected? My impression is that in the Berks County area at the time the name Putt was not unlike Smith or Jones.

David Parson's address is tparsons@reliable-net.net He and I are second cousins (maybe once removed) I'm not that sure of his exact line but he's out of one of my grandfather's brothers. He sort of comes and goes--I think he's still in school or something so his time is pretty limited.

When you get a chance could you please fill me in on details of your line? All I have is that George married Sarah Getz and nothing on dates, children etc. I would be happy to fill you in on what I know in return.

The only other person I know of searching for the Putt family is Dawne Slater-Putt. She has written a book on her husband's family. It goes back to Benjamin Putt, born between 1750 and 1760, and in Berks County in the 1800 and 1810 censuses. She has not been able to push it back another generation. Does Benjamin fit in with what you know?*

I haven't been able to actually get to PA to look things up in person. I only got started on the Putts last year and so far what I have has been limited to what I can glean from great-uncle Irvin's scribbling and what I can find on-line. Most of Uncle Irvin's material is in really bad shape so I have to keep going back to it looking for things I missed.

> I have been suspecting that one day Jacob got tired of having his name spelled half a dozen ways and said, "From now on, our name is spelled PUTT." I wouldn't be surprised. I have a copy of my great-grandparent's marriage certificate and it's spelled "Pott" and also spelled that way in the Berk's County records. The fact that they seemed to continue to speak German would also be a factor in finding records. According to my mother, my grandfather's older brother spoke English like he just got off the boat. In fact, our side always thought that they were recent (late 1800s) immigrants because of that. Everyone was shocked when I started digging and found they were probably here 100 years before we thought.

> Carolyn Glad to meet you, too and I hope we will be able to help each other out down the road. Have you been in contact with David Parsons? He's also working on the Putts but don't know how he's doing. I haven't heard from him lately. He's from one of my grandfather's brothers.

Levi Jacob Putt + Susanna Peter
Daniel Jacob Putt + Mary Elizabeth Miller

Hello Family

My name is David A Parsons and I am the descendents of Levi Putt who married Susan Peters. They had a son Daniel Jacob Putt who married Mary Elizabeth Miller. Daniel and Mary had a son, Walter Daniel Putt who married Edna Esther Raymond and they had a daughter Emma Evelyn Putt. Emma married Wilbur David Glover and they had a daughter Karen Ann Glover who married James Parsons. Karen and Jim had a son name David A Parsons on 02/21/1961, that's me.

I married Theresa Jean Bean 10/04/1981. Theresa was born 05/31/1961. We live in a small town just west of Indianapolis called Monrovia, IN. We own a beautiful log home back in the woods, just like Daniel Boone.

We had our first child Christopher Alan Parsons on 07/19/1984. Christopher is a big 17 yrs old young man right now. Chris has his driver license " Lord Help Us ". He's a great kid and thinks he is a comedian, keeping me in stitches. Chris is a bright young man; he wants to be an aviation mechanic.

Our second child is Wesley David Parsons born 10/06/1985 now a big 15 yr old. We call him WES. Wesley is a great kid, a big thinker in all he wants to do in life. He is our "take me here and take me there" child, involved in everything. I will be glad once he has his license. Wesley wants to go into the Air force or the Army. Wes is involved in " Civil Air Patrol ".

We have a dog name BUDDY and a cat name PATCHES and a yard full of MOLES. Our dog sleeps a lot and our cat eats a lot. What a life.

Theresa and I both work. I work for Marsh Supermarkets in Mooresville, IN. I take care of all the banking and accounting of the store. Theresa works for a company called Alltel Information Systems on the north side of Indianapolis, IN. Theresa is involved in the programming side of the computer business.

We are a Christian family and love our Lord. God continues to bless us through out our Christian walk. Theresa is very active in our Church and also keeps us real busy. My hobbies are my family and family genealogy. Theresa's hobbies are keeping us on the go . I hope one day to meet each one of you at a family reunion or some sort of gathering. Well that's the Parsons family in a nutshell.

VR3 VRBCS300W Wireless Back-up Camera

http://reviews.cnet.com/4505-6730_7-32317312.html

At a glance

- Release date: August 2, 2006
- Editors' rating: 5.7 Average
- The good: VR3's VRBCS300W Wireless Back-up Camera is a cost-effective solution for getting some general rear visibility.
- The bad: The small screen and fish-eye lens effect make it very difficult to accurately judge depth and distances.
- The bottom line: The VR3 VRBCS300W Wireless Back-up Camera is a competitively-priced, easy to install aid for getting some rearward visibility, but don't rely on it for getting into tight parking spots.

More and more new, high-end cars come with the option of a factory-installed rearview camera. But what if you want this technology without having to either buy a new car or install an expensive in-dash display? A solution is available from Virtual Reality Video Labs in the form of its VRBCS300W Wireless Back-up Camera. We hooked up the device to our 2007 Saturn Sky Red Line--a car that needs all of the added rear visibility it can get when the top is up--to see how this aftermarket device compared with factory systems.

becca (died unmarried); Daniel U.; Susanna (m. Peter Boyer); John (died unmarried); and Mary and Peter (died young).

Daniel U. Moyer was born March 14, 1831, and on the Moyer homestead in Millcreek, Lebanon county, and died Jan. 25, 1875, having been a farmer and iron worker all of his life. He was also interred at the Corner Church. Mr. Moyer married Sarah Painter, who was born Sept. 29, 1834, and now lives with her son, David, at Robesonia. She is a daughter of Jacob and Barbara (Hossler) Painter, of Heidelberg township. To Mr. and Mrs. Moyer these children were born: Mary, m. Charles Burkholder of Sheridan, Pa.; Frederick; Rebecca, m. the late Frank Kepley, and resides near Robesonia; Daniel lives at Richland, Pa.; Susan m. Samuel Mardarness, of Robesonia; Jacob died young; Urias is of Robesonia; Sallie m. Samuel Wortluft, of Wyomissing; Katie died aged eight years; Amanda m. John Deppen of Womelsdorf; and David is of Robesonia.

Frederick Moyer was reared to farming, and when nineteen years of age commenced working in the furnace at Robesonia. This work he was compelled to give up after twenty-one years on account of ill health, and he then purchased his sawmill property in the South Mountains, a tract of nine acres. He soon began to prosper, and by earnest effort and strict attention to business was able to purchase the old Putt homestead near his sawmill, a property of sixty-two acres of fertile land, furnished with good, substantial buildings, that barn having been erected in 1897. In 1901 he purchased another sawmill, which he has operated to the present time, employing from five to ten men, and in addition he owns several dwellings in Robesonia, which he has rented.

Mr. Moyer married, Sept. 19, 1885,

THIRTEENTH CENSUS OF THE UNITED STATES: 1910—POPULATION

W. VA. PROGRESSIVES MOSTLY FOR WILSON

hand many were outspoken in their praise of the administration. It is predicted that President Wilson as well as the democratic state ticket will receive practically the solid vote of West Virginia progressives.

The determination of the progressive party here to continue as an independent organization is further emphasized by the fact that a meeting has been called for the last Tuesday of November to reorganize the party and establish a permanent progressive league.

DELAWARE MOOSERS ARE AGAINST DUPONT

DOVER, Del., Sept. 29.—Delaware progressives have joined the movement of independent republicans to smash the republican machine in this state which is seeking to re-elect Henry A. DuPont to the United States senate. This means a third state ticket in Delaware aimed to overthrow the regular republican organization. Progressives at the meeting of their state committee decided to put a full ticket in nomination and have planned to conduct a separate campaign in its behalf. They adopted a separate party platform in which they declared in part:

"The progressive party of the United States was born in 1912 as a protest against political theft and against the reactionary domination of the republican party by a small band of political freebooters."

The platform adds that Senator DuPont's renomination by the republican machine in Delaware was made possible "by the boldest fraud and theft perpetrated in his behalf by a small coterie of unscrupulous politicians and against the will of an honest and overwhelming majority of the rank and file of his party."

Many Delaware progressives, believing that the most effective means of destroying the republican machine in the state is to support the democratic candidates, both state and national, have openly declared for the re-election of President Wilson.

ZOERCHER TALKS AT TWO BIG MEETINGS

Marshall club of that city. Attorney Louis H. Dutton presided. Guy Colerick spoke at length on the democratic legislation of the past four years. He showed beyond contradiction that the democratic administration, both in nation and in state, has a record of constructive legislation unequaled by any former administration of any party. At 9:30 the Zoercher party arrived and Mr. Zoercher spoke on state and national issues. Particularly did he explain beyond any doubt the full payment of the state debt and the reduction of the state tax.

The speeches last night are part of a tour Mr. Zoercher is making of the district. Every place he has been he has had large and attentive audiences. His audiences have warmed to him and he has had not only a marked, rapt attention, but also large ovations of enthusiastic approval. He has gained this by a capable knowledge of his subject, a close delineation of detail in his discussions and the force of his own convictions. He talks not in generalities, but in specific facts.

Mr. Zoercher's itinerary in the county closes to-night with a big meeting at Woodburn. He spoke Monday night at New Haven, Thursday night at Hoagland and Sheldon. Great preparations are being made for the Woodburn meeting. The Wilson and Marshall club of Maysville, headed by the drum corps, will attend in a body. The Woodburn cornet band will give a band concert from 6 to 7:30.

At last night's meetings the democratic drum corps furnished music for the Lincoln meeting, while the Huntertown band played for their meeting. A string band from the Fort Wayne Young Men's Democratic club furnished glee club music.

Two big township meetings are billed by the democrats for Monday night. At Center school in Eel River, Judge John H. Aiken and Attorney Louis Dutton will discuss the issues. The registration law will also be explained at this meeting. At Leo, Hon. Cyrus Cline, Harry Muller and John Hoffman will speak.

HARRY S. NEW SPEAKS AT G. O. P. MEETING

Captain Harry S. New, republican candidate for the long term in the United States senate, spoke at a meeting of republican workers in headquarters last night on organization. Mr. New told the workers how necessary it was to have complete organizations in every precinct of the county and that an extra effort should be put forth to get the voters out on registration day. Mr. New was introduced by Robert B. Hanna. District Chairman Harry G. Hogan presided at the meeting.

GOODRICH WILL SPEAK IN MAJESTIC THEATRE

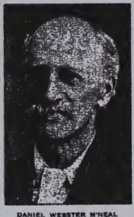
James P. Goodrich, republican candidate for governor, will make four speeches in Allen county next Thursday, October 5. In the morning he will speak at Monroeville, at noon he will speak at the Fort Wayne Electric works, at 2:30 p. m., he will speak at Huntertown, and in the evening he will speak at a meeting to be held in the Majestic theatre.

HILGEMANN AND STUMP SPEAKERS AT ST. JOE

Harry H. Hilgemann of Fort Wayne and Walter Stump of Auburn were the speakers at a democratic meeting held in St. Joe last night. Both speakers discussed state and national issues and declared that there was no reason this year why the people should turn against Woodrow Wilson, considering what he has done for the American people. The meeting was largely attended. The DeKalb county quartet and a drum corps furnished the music.

WATSON TOURS DEKALB.

James E. Watson, republican candidate for the short term in the United States senate, toured DeKalb county yesterday, speaking from an automobile. He spoke in Waterloo yesterday morning and at Butler in the afternoon. Other towns visited were Corunna, St. Joe, Spencerville, Garrett and Auburn. To-day Mr. Watson will spend a few hours in Fort Wayne meeting republican leaders. Next Monday he will tour Allen county. To-night he speaks in Ken-



DANIEL WEBSTER M'NEAL

Heaven retaineth now our treasure,
Earth will the lonely casket keep,
And sunbeams love to linger
Where our sainted father sleep.

Daniel Webster McNeal was born in Trumble county, Ohio, February 19, 1837, and moved to Union county, Ohio, when a small boy. He enlisted in the civil war in the year of 1861 and served until 1865. He was united in marriage to Clarsia Welsh on May 31, 1863. To this union were born fourteen children—Rena, Frank, Albert, Howard, Lois, William, (Aaron and Isaac), (Oliver and Olive), (Catherine and Calvin), Elah and Sheridan.

He moved to Van Wert county forty years ago. The mother and five children departed this life a number of years ago. The nine surviving children are as follows: Rena Eddy, of Indianapolis; Frank, of Broadway, Ohio; Albert, of Convoy, Ohio; Howard, of Petroleum, Ind.; Lois Watson, of Edgerton, Ind.; William of Payne, Ohio; Aaron, of Indianapolis; Oliver, of Fort Wayne, and Catherine Marshall of Granger, Ind. There are also sixteen grandchildren and one great grandchild. He was united in marriage to Mrs. S. A. Watson of Monroeville, Ind., on February 5, 1885. The widow also survives. He was a member of the G. A. R. post of Payne, O. He departed this life September 22, 1916, at twenty minutes of 4 p. m., at the McNeal homestead. Funeral services were held Sunday, September 24, 1916, from the Oak Grove church and the remains were laid to rest in the McNeal cemetery. He will ever be remembered as a devoted father and a loyal neighbor, desiring to lighten the burden of others. He will also be remembered as one of Van Wert county's most highly respected citizens.

Weep not that his toils are over;
Weep not that his race is won;
God grant we may rest as calmly
When our work like his is done.
Till then we yield with gladness
Our father to Him keep
And rejoice in sweet assurance,
He giveth His loved one sleep.

We desire in this manner to thank the many friends and neighbors for their kindness shown during the sickness and death of our beloved father, Daniel W. McNeal.

taining odd jobs. He is an electrician by trade, but worked most of the time as an automobile mechanic. It was his intention to join his family in New Jersey, but he declared he was unable to find any traces of them.

Knobloch was convicted in Baltimore for using the mails to defraud and was sent to Atlanta in May of this year to serve a term of eighteen months. Fay was sent to Atlanta for conspiring to destroy with bombs ships carrying munitions to the entente allies.

They escaped by use of forged passes on the pretense they had been directed to repair a defective electric wire outside the walls.

EVANSVILLE LANDS NEXT CONVENTION

The house accepted the report of the committee which recommended an all-time health officer for each county in the state, and the establishing of a department of hygiene in connection with the state board of health. Another committee recommended that the state association ask for legislation on the matter of a new building for the medical department at Indiana university, also that new equipment be purchased for the department. It was adopted.

The dues are to be raised at least one dollar, this the result of action taken yesterday which creates an office of executive secretaryship with headquarters at Indianapolis. The president appointed the following committee to select the executive secretary: Dr. A. E. Sterne, Indianapolis, chairman; Dr. F. A. Tucker, Dr. George F. MacCoy, Dr. J. H. Oliver and Dr. George F. Keiper.

No action was taken by the state association regarding the recommendation of legislation which would make necessary examinations before the medical board of chiropractors or the licensing of them.

The convention, which covered a period of three days, closed with yesterday's sessions. It was one of the most successful and most largely attended gatherings ever held by the state association.

15-YEAR-OLD BOY COMMITS SUICIDE

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 29.—Fifteen-year-old Joseph Shelley of New Carlisle hung himself in a barn this afternoon. He tied a piece of harness around his neck and jumped from the loft to the floor. He did not attend school all day, and shortly after noon he went to the barn where he was found dead half an hour later. No reason is known for his act.

FUNERAL OF SUICIDE SUNDAY MORNING.

ASHLEY, Ind., Sept. 29.—Funeral services for Miss Susie Putt, who committed suicide near here yesterday, will be held at the United Brethren church in Hudson Sunday morning.

GOVERNOR RALSTON TALKS ON "METHODISM"

GREENCASTLE, Ind., Sept. 29.—Declaring that motherhood in Indiana has not been recognized as it should be,

HANLY STIRRING 'EM UP IN DENVER, COLO.

"Dry" Special Completes Tour of Western States—Will Start East To-day.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 29.—A rousing meeting, bringing an end to the prohibition state convention to-night, closed the far western invasion of the dry campaigners, who left Chicago three weeks ago for the Pacific coast.

The band stand at Greeley was decorated with flags and banners, the latter inscribed with this plea: "Beer is intoxicating; do not write a lie into the constitution." Brewers are seeking here to have beer declared non-intoxicating.

Hanly aroused such enthusiasm in one man at Cheyenne that at the close of the meeting he waved his hat and shouted wildly: "Three cheers for Hanly and to h—l with the saloon."

The crowd then joined him in cheering.

"The saloon has not a lasting friend in the world," said Ira Landrith, the vice presidential candidate, here to-night. "The better friend a man becomes to it the more he drinks and the quicker he dies. Hence they don't last."

The train will enter Kansas to-morrow.

WILSON REBUKES NEWEST ASSAILANT

you to convey this message to them."

Mr. O'Leary's telegram was given out by the president, as follows:

"Again we greet you with a popular disapproval of your pro-British policies. Last year from the Twenty-third New York congressional district and now from your own state and from the voters of your own party. Senator Martine won because the voters of New Jersey do not want any truckling to the British empire nor do they approve of dictatorship over congress.

"Your foreign policies, your failure to secure compliance with all American rights, your leniency with the British empire, your approval of war loans, the ammunition traffic, are issues in this campaign. Do you know that William S. Bennet, a republican congressman ran in the democratic primaries in the Twenty-third New York congressional district and polled 36 per cent. of the total democratic vote against his regular democratic opponent. Anglo-Maniacs and British interests may control newspapers but they don't control votes. The people may be readers, but they are not followers of the newspapers.

"When sir, will you respond to these evidences of popular disapproval of your policies by action. The Martine election and Bennet vote prove you have lost support among democrats.

"Every vote for Martine was a vote against you, as was every democratic vote that went for Mr. Bennet in the democratic primaries in the Twenty-third congressional district."

Makes Attitude Known

The president's attitude toward the campaign and toward some of the issues before the country were made known here to-day. It was learned that in his speech at Shadow Lawn to-morrow and in subsequent addresses here he intends to give to the country definite reasons why he is asking for another term.

Following is an authoritative summary of his campaign attitude:

The president will adhere strictly to his determination not to enter into personalities or into a political controversy with Charles E. Hughes. All the speeches he will make away from Shadow Lawn will be delivered before nonpartisan organizations and will be devoted entirely to a discussion of public questions. By inference they will have a political effect.

His speeches here, however, will be more political in tone. To-morrow he will tell why he thinks young men should vote the democratic ticket.

At present American voters are entitled to know, he believes, what the republicans would do at present in Mexico, what attitude they would take toward belligerent nations in Europe, whether they would repeal the federal reserve act, the tariff law, the rural credits act, the tariff commission bill, the eight-hour law for railroad employes, the child labor law, and other legislative acts of the democrats.

Although several days ago officials here said the president would take occasion to refer occasionally to the settlement of the recently threatened railroad strike it became known to-day that he has since decided not to dwell on this question as much as on other issues. The president believes that subsequent settlements of pending international questions can only be embarrassed by partisan discussion of them.

No Direct Reply to Hughes

For this reason he is not expected to reply directly to the challenge issued by Mr. Hughes that he deny or confirm the charge that John Lind went to Mexico with orders to oust General Huerta. On this subject Mr. Wilson takes the position that Huerta was ousted, that the democratic administration opposed him consistently and that, therefore no reply is necessary.

The members of the board created by congress to investigate the workings of the eight-hour law passed at the end of the last session will be appointed by the president within a few days. The selection of the members of the tariff commission, the shipping board, and of the commission created to administer the working men's compensation law for government employes will be postponed until later.

Parker Against Hughes

The president received word to-day that John M. Parker, progressive candidate for vice president, plans to make speeches in opposition to Mr. Hughes. At first administration officials said the president himself had heard from Mr. Parker, but later it was stated that this was a mistake and that a letter announcing his intention had been sent by Mr. Parker to Bainbridge Colby, of New York.

PETER ROTH SUCCEEDS CAPT. MIKE CONNERS

The board of public safety last night appointed Peter Roth captain of No. 2 engine station to succeed Michael Conners, retired on pension. Mr. Roth has been serving as first lieutenant. The board appointed George Schwartz, who has been serving as second lieutenant, to the position as first lieutenant, and Robert Miller second lieutenant. William W. Foster, who has been working extra for five years, was appointed to fill the vacancy made by the promotions. At the meeting it was decided to ask the comptroller for an additional $600 to pay necessary expenses for the balance of the year.

GERMAN PAPERS' VIEW OF CHANCELLOR'S ADDRESS

BERLIN, Sept. 29.—(10:15 a. m., via London, 8 p. m.)—The speech of Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor, in the reichstag, meets with a mixed reception in the newspapers, the feeling being variously expressed that he placed such restraint on himself that his utterances lacked definiteness.

The conservatives, for example, ask pointedly whether his sharp words against England and his declaration that the statesman should be hanged omits adopting every possible means to defeat Great Britain, signifies that Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg is willing to resume the submarine warfare though they themselves assume that the contrary is the case.

The conservatives note that a number of points were untouched by the chancellor, which many of them wished to hear discussed. All the newspapers, except the Vorwaerts, are gratified that the chancellor made no new peace overtures in view of the utterances of members of the British and French cabinets. General approval is given of Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg's emphasizing of the statement that England is Germany's chief foe.

It is significant that the conservative press treats coldly what the chancellor said about the intrigues against himself. Also his outline of the future internal policy of the union meets with the rejoinder that hitherto it has been a case of Germany and Prussia.

The Vorwaerts, voicing the feelings of the socialist secessionists, expresses distinct disappointment over the speech, which it says opens no provisions for shortening the war, but leaves everything obscured and foggy.

LORD CECIL THINKS SPEECH WAS WEAK

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The address of the German imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, in the reichstag, is more remarkable for what it omitted than for what it said, according to Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war trade, who, in discussing the speech with the Associated Press today, declared the most significant fact in connection with the chancellor's utterance was his failure to mention Belgium. Lord Robert said:

"There is a very definite change in the tone of speech over the previous ones of the chancellor. The talk of a complete German victory is entirely absent. Another remarkable thing was that there was not a word about Belgium. The significance of this probably is that he was unable to say anything about Belgium as his listeners can be assumed to be the whole world and he was bound to offend a section of it if Belgium was mentioned. If he attempted to justify German occupation he would offend the best of all neutral opinion and equally he would offend his own people if he expressed a determination to give up that country.

"Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg's denunciation of England, while violent, contributed nothing really new. It was merely the old trick of attempting to convince our allies that we are trading on their efforts and bleeding them to death in the process, but recent events on the Somme ought to convince him of his error. The idea that we want world supremacy is fantastic."

Discussing this phase of the chancellor's speech, Lord Robert declared:

"You will note that in this race for commercial supremacy England is the chief opponent to be feared, the United States being left out entirely."

Lord Robert continued: "And one can readily see that we made no preparation for any such contest for world supremacy.

"I note in the portion of the speech devoted to efforts for peace that my name is used, but I cannot understand his complaint. That Germany was once ready for peace means nothing, as naturally everybody is always ready for peace on his own terms. The Germans are ready, not for peace, but for a truce to enable them to prepare to enforce their own terms on the world. There will be no peace as long as Germany is content to be ruled by a military caste."

Discussing the reference in the chancellor's speech to the death of the king of Rumania, the minister of war trade said:

"Of course, it is quite possible that the strain imposed by the war may have caused his death, as the king was an old man, but it is also quite possible that that theory of the cause of death may be based on Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg's imagination."

Lord Robert stated that he believed the German imperial chancellor was sincere in his declaration that Germany was waging war with every possible instrument. Continuing he said:

"The lull in submarine warfare is due to a shortage in submarines and it is always increased when instruments are at hand. The only change I note is that no British passenger liner has been sunk since the Sussex."

POLITICIAN KILLED BY WOMAN REPORTER

Editor, Alleged to Have Told Her to Commit Crime, Is Arrested and in Jail.

THOMPSON FALLS, Mont., Sept. 29.—A. C. Thomas, chairman of the republican central committee of Sanders county, died in a hospital at Missoula to-day from a pistol shot fired by Miss Edith Colby, a reporter on a local paper. Thomas died without making any statement regarding the shooting.

The preliminary hearing of Miss Colby was continued to-day until October 5. Miss Colby, on advice of her attorney, did not enter a plea when taken into court. She did not ask to be released on bail and was returned to jail.

Miss Colby has stated that Thomas had made remarks that reflected on her character. J. Manire, editor of the newspaper that employed Miss Colby, also has been arrested and is in jail. The sheriff announced that he had been told by Miss Colby that Manire had advised her to kill Thomas, who was opposed politically to Manire.

than two to one, the senate voted to proceed with the consideration of this bill which already had been passed by the house and favorably reported by a senate committee, the passage of this meritorious legislation by the senate, was obstructed and defeated, or as Mr. Hughes would say, 'merely delayed' by a republican threat of filibuster. 'The mere delay' in this instance, was highly important in view of the pending presidential election and it is significant that the republicans were responsible for the 'mere. delay.'

"Mr. Hughes knew that congress, through its majority, had determined to pass the bill (the corrupt practices act) and he knew, moreover that the manifest desire of the majority of the senate was being obstructed by the republican threat of a filibuster, a legislative device in which the leader of the republican party, 'does not believe.' A word from Mr. Hughes during the pendency of this bill would have sufficed to have stopped the filibuster and enabled the majority to pass the corrupt practices act. But no word came from Mr. Hughes. He was as silent about the threatened filibuster against the corrupt practices act as he is now blatant in offering his objection to filibustering as his excuse for not defeating the eight-hour law.

"If he remained silent on the eight-hour law because he 'does not believe in filibustering,' why didn't he speak out and condemn the threatened filibuster by which the corrupt practices act was defeated?

"Mr. Hughes' protest that he could not have been expected to offer any suggestion for averting the threatened strike, because he was one thousand miles away is too humorous to merit serious consideration. Does he not know that the telegraph wires and the Morse code afford a means of almost instantaneous communication, that placed him relatively as near to Washington as to New York, and is it not a fact that on his tour he was in frequent communication with his campaign managers in New York?

"The one excuse offered by the republican candidate in extenuation of his failure to advise with his republican friends in the senate about eight-hour law is palpably inconsistent and the other is humorously ridiculous."

WANT WILSON TO TALK POLITICS IN INDIANA.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 29. — Indiana democrats are making efforts to get President Wilson to return to Indiana to make a political speech after he delivers his "good roads" address here October 12, in connection with the Indiana centennial celebration. This effort is being made despite repeated announcements that President Wilson will not defor protection in its broadest sense covering American industry, peace and honor.

In his speech at Binghamton and again at Elmira and Corning, the nominee went further than he had gone before in making known his views on the eight-hour day.

"I am not opposed to the principle of the eight-hour day," Mr. Hughes said, "I favor the general principle of the eight-hour day. I should like to see an eight-hour work day."

The nominee was accompanied on his trip by William M. Calder and Robert Bacon, successful and defeated candidates respectively for the republican senatorial nomination.

Mr. Hughes was fatigued by the trip. He reached Hornell, so tired of body and voice that he had a local speaker address the audience in the opera house here to-night in his place. The nominee spoke a few words only after his substitute had closed.

"Continuously during my terms of executive responsibility in this state," Mr. Hughes said in his address here to-night, "I sought to promote the just interests of labor and recommended every practicable measure to that end. It is true I did not always agree with the measures that were proposed. I will admit that cheerfully and I may state further that what I did in connection with my duty as governor involved a principle which I should continue to apply if I were invested with executive responsibility. As governor I examined the proposals that were made as clearly as I knew how, and what I thought was right I favored it and when I believed a measure was wrong I did not attempt to gain votes by indorsing it."

MOB LYNCHES TWO NEGRO MURDERERS

from the jail short work was made of putting them to death.

Events culminating in the double lynching moved with dramatic swiftness. Three negro prisoners effected an escape from the county jail late to-day. They were discovered in the act by Sheriff James May, who was knocked down and robbed of his pistol.

Gibson went to his aid and was shot to death. It was only a few minutes after the negroes had gained their freedom that a mob bent on vengeance was in close pursuit.

Men Plead for Lives.

Two of the negroes took refuge in a house in the outskirts of Nowata, where they were surrounded and re-arrested. The third negro apparently made good his escape. One of the re-arrested negroes, John Foreman, alleged to have been the man who killed Gibson, was wounded when taken into custody and was not molested, but the unwounded negro was seized by the mob, which had grown to large proportions, and a parade through the principal streets began with the negro screaming for mercy at a rope's end. When the mob reached the Methodist church, a large tree with outspreading branches offered the opportunity which the rope around the negro's neck suggested.

"Let's lynch the negro on holy ground," shouted some one in the crowd. The prisoner was swung clear of the ground and was being choked to death when Mr. Pierce appeared, attracted from his study in the parsonage by the negro's screams. He rushed from the house into the midst of the crowd and began his pleadings for the seemingly doomed man's life.

The mob paused in its work to hear what the minister had to say.

"Men, I beseech you in the name of God not to desecrate this holy ground," pleaded Mr. Pierce. "Do not stain the name of our city by going into this terrible affair."

With great earnestness, he demanded that the law be allowed to take its course. Five minutes the pastor spoke, until one of the mob leaders, turning to his fellows, said: "Men, Mr. Pierce is right. Take the negro back to jail and let the law take its course."

The mob, sobered by the words of the pastor, and the assumption of man and the negro who had been rescued from the mob in the afternoon and who had given the name of "Sunny" Powell to the jail authorities, were taken from the jail by another and larger mob of citizens. Foreman was strung up to a lamp post near the court house and Powell was hanged from a tree a few feet distant. The sheriff was not at the jail when the mob sought entrance. The deputies left to guard the negroes were pushed aside and forced into submission.

ADAMSON 8-HOUR LAW MAKES FOR SAFETY

So Declares Secretary of War Baker in Address at Louisville, Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 29.—Approval of the Adamson eight-hour law as a safety measure was voiced by Secretary of War Newton W. Baker in an address here to-night, at the opening of the local democratic campaign.

"The Adamson law," he said "makes for safety on the railroads of this country because it insures that men who have lost their alertness as a result of overwork, will not be put in charge of trains. That makes it worth while if there was no other thing in its favor. Yet it is being opposed by interests in control of the railroads as were the sixteen-hour law and the safety appliances act."

Though devoting the greater part of his address to the Adamson law, Secretary Baker also voiced approval of the administration's foreign and Mexican policies.

convention, rose and shouted that Ray lied.

Harry Bassett, secretary to Mayor Bell of Indianapolis, entered into a defense of Ray and an altercation ensued with J. C. Hahn, delegate from Fort Wayne. Bassett was invited to fight and pulled off his coat. Hahn started for him, but was restrained.

The fight developed over an effort to amend the constitution, so that in the future the officers of the convention would be elected by referendum ballot instead of by the convention. The motion to so amend the constitution was lost because it lacked the necessary two-thirds vote, the ballot showing 126 in favor of amending the constitution and 77 against it.

Anderson won the 1917 convention, 118 votes being cast in its favor, while Evansville received 38 and Peru only two votes.

reserves were called out did the commuters abandon their demand for boats. They left the city for their homes in New Jersey over roundabout routes.

Probability of a general sympathetic strike in aid of the traction employes who quit their places on September 6 lessened to-night with the announcement that a local brewery workers' union, whose 900 members struck in response to the call of the conference of labor leaders, had voted to return to work. Officials of the union issued a statement in which developments proved that organized labor "will not act in concert in behalf of the carmen."

Organization of subway and elevated road motormen will continue according to a statement made by L. G. Griffin, third assistant grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in charge of the work in this city.

The Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railways employes took steps to distribute strike benefits among the striking carmen, it was announced by James H. Fahey, general counsel of the association.

Sixteen persons were injured, one seriously, in a rear-end collision between two surface cars in the Bronx. One car was standing still when the other, said to have been operated by strike-breakers, crashed into it. The motorman of the rear car jumped from his post, it is said, and disappeared.

Marked improvement in surface car traffic was reported with subway and elevated lines operating on normal schedules.

GENERAL GONZALES SAYS HIS TROOPS ARE LOYAL

GOLD IMPORTS WILL REACH HIGH FIGURE

Director of Washington Mint Estimates Amount to Be About $400,000,000.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 29.—The gold imports from Europe and Canada that yet may be expected to come into the United States were placed at $400,000,000 by F. J. H. von Engelken, director of the mint, Washington, D. C., who spoke here to-day at the closing session of the annual convention of the American Bankers association. He declared these figures had been given to some financial agents of the entente allies in this country.

"We are melting up and turning into American money millions of dollars' worth of English sovereigns and French twenty-franc pieces," the director declared.

The increased financial demands being made by the present prosperity were shown by figures indicating that the minting of small pieces of money had more than doubled within the last year. These were said to indicate the increased spending capacity of the country.

late General J. P. C. Shanks, who will ride horseback in the cavalcade, and perhaps no one within the borders of the county can be found who is the descendant of one who has taken the prominent part in the early history of or knew more about the struggles of the pioneers of Jay county than Miss Luella Ymmah Tsa Topin Shanks, as local history records her name. Miss Shanks is a member of the faculty of the Portland high school. Her father, born June 17, 1836, came to Jay county, when but thirteen years old, four years after the county had been organized in 1836. From ox driver, engaged in hauling logs or home-made hickory split baskets to Fort Wayne markets, requiring from five to seven days on each trip of less than fifty miles, he rose to lawyer, soldier and statesman, acquiring the title of general in the civil war. He was elected to the thirty-seventh United States congress in 1860, before the war developed, his first service in that body being in the special session called by President Abraham Lincoln, which met July 4, 1861, to provide means for protecting the union against rebellion. At the close of the war, in 1865, he was returned to congress serving continuously for four terms from the fortieth to the forty-third inclusive, closing his career as the representative of the then Eleventh district of which Jay county was a part, on March 4th, 1875. General Shanks' career was a brilliant one. His death occurred here on February 22, 1901, the anniversary of the birth of George Washington. His name stands most prominent in all history of the county his daughter has the honor to represent on the one hundredth anniversary of the great Hoosier state.

fighting also has occurred around the Stuff redoubt.

Rain is hampering operations on the remainder of the Anglo-French front north of the Somme, according to official statements. Paris mentions no activity after the advance between Fregicourt and Morval toward Sailly, on the Peronne-Bapaume road.

There has been no great activity on any of the other fronts in Europe, except in Transylvania, where the Austro-Germans have repulsed the Rumanians at Hermannstadt. Vienna says the Teutonic forces also have occupied the heights east and southeast of the town after violent fighting. The battle in this section, however, has not yet been finished.

The intense fighting in the region of Korynytza on the eastern front in Russia, appears to have come to an end. Berlin and Vienna say the Russian prisoners have increased to forty-one officers and 3,000 men. The forces under Prince Leopold, of Bavaria, here also took two cannon and thirty-three machine guns. Berlin records the repulse of a Russian advance near Goduziszki, and Petrograd claims the defeat of a German attack near Gukalov. Fighting continues in the Carpathians, but there has been no change in the battle lines.

In Macedonia entente allies troops are withstanding Bulgarian attacks. The Serbians have checked four attacks against Pons on the Kaimakcalan plateau and the French have withstood assaults along the Broda river.

Crown Prince Rupprecht, of Bavaria, commander of the German forces on the Somme front, and Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor, both declare that the efforts of the French and British to force a breach in the German lines on the Somme have been fruitless. The entente troops will have to go through a winter campaign on the Somme and continue their efforts next year, Crown Prince Rupprecht is quoted as saying. The imperial chancellor, in his address to the reichstag, declared that the German front there "stands firm and unshaken," and added that "the end is not yet in sight."

NORSE BOAT TORPEDOED.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The Norwegian steamer Vindeggen has been sunk by an Austrian submarine, according to a Reuter dispatch from Madrid. Twenty-four of the crew of the vessel have been landed at Las Palmas, Canary islands.

The Norwegian steamer Vindeggen measured 1,678 net tons. She was last reported as leaving Spezia on August 31 for Tyne.

STORMS PREVENT FIGHTING.

PARIS, Sept. 29.—(Via London, 11:20 p. m.)—The official communication issued by the war office to-night reads:

"The day was comparatively quiet on the whole front. Bad weather is hampering operations."

BRITISH ONSLAUGHT CONTINUES

The purpose of the U.S. Family Census History form is to track multi-generational famies through time using the information provided by U.S. Census enumerations. You can also track multi-generational families as well. Shaded boxes signify that information was not asked for by the enumerator during that census year.

PUTT FAMILY

This family is the most difficult to deal with of all the families I have written about so far. I have made several false starts and have suffered sleepless nights because of the memories, as well as new insights, that are coming to me.

First of all, the family dead-ends far too early. I have communicated with assorted distant cousins, and none of us have been able to go back farther than my 3rd great grandparents, Jacob Putt and Catharine Shaffer. I am a little irritated that they didn't leave a better trail.

Second, I was very close to my grandmother, Maude Bell Brugh, who married into this family, and whose death was traumatic for all of us.

Third, I have, since I was a teen-ager, thought that I saw in myself some of the characteristics of my grandfather, Frank Putt, whom I did not want to be like. And further, apparently I look enough like his family to resemble one of the far distant Pennsylvania Putts. And this comes after spending most of my life thinking that I look like my father's family.

Aunt Lurah has told me some stories that she would never have written down about her family, and I am still trying to decide whether and how to handle this information.

The easiest way to begin is with Jacob and Catharine. Most of what I know comes from two entries made by their descendants in county history books. And there is a conflict between the two. Here we go.

JACOB AND CATHARINE SHAFFER

As Aunt Lurah (Lurah Jeannette Putt DeVoe Phillips) had not been able to get beyond this couple, I assumed that if I went to Berks County, Pennsylvania, where they had lived, I would find some more records of them. I didn't, at least nothing to amount to anything. I found no property records for them. A volunteer staffer in the genealogical library in Reading couldn't find anything on the Putt family, and said that looking for a Shaffer (any spelling) in Berks County was like looking for a Smith anywhere else.

The entry in the Berks County history book says that Jacob was born in Germany and immigrated when he was 15 years old. I believe we can discount that information, because his son, George Washington Putt, Jacob's eldest son writes in the DeKalb County history, that his parents were native-born Pennsylvanians. George also says that he is of English and German descent. The Berks County Shaffers are pretty surely of German descent. It appears to me that these Putt men kept marrying into German families and producing German-speaking children. Jacob Putt married a Shaffer; his son, George, married a Getz/Getts; George's son married an Anstett (the Anstetts considered themselves French, but they spoke German).

Census entries also support a Pennsylvania birth for Jacob Putt and Catharine Shaffer. In the 1880 census of DeKalb County, Indiana, Pennsylvania is listed as the birthplace of both of George Washington Putt's parents. The same information is given in the entry for Levi (known to his descendants as Levi Jacob) Putt, a younger brother of George Washington Putt, in the 1880 census of Berks County, Pennsylvania, as well as in the entry for their sister, Susan Eckenroth, in the 1900 census of Berks County, Pennsylvania.

So, we are looking at a Jacob who moved to Berks County from some other part of Pennsylvania when he was 15 years old. I haven't a clue as to whether he came alone or as part of his family. Since other a few other Putts have shown up in Berks County, I am guessing that he came with his parents and siblings. However, at 15, he may have been considered adult enough to be on his own. He worked as a teamster, whether with oxen or horses is unsure. He drove one of the big Conestoga wagons, hauling supplies for the ironworks in the Robesonia area. As I understood it, the teamster did not ride on the wagon, as we see in movies, but walked beside his team, using voice commands to drive them.

According to the grandson who wrote the entry for the Berks County history, Jacob attended St. Daniel's Church and is buried in St. Daniel's Cemetery. In a history of St. Daniel's, I did come across his name sort of tentatively mentioned, as though word-of-mouth said he had been part of the church, but without documentation. There were two different congregations using the St. Daniel's building. You may come across "Lutheran and Reformed" when reading about some churches. Lutheran and Reformed is not a denomination. What this means is that a Lutheran congregation and a Reformed congregation were using the same facilities for worship. I did not find Jacob and Catherine listed in the St. Daniel's burials, although they may be there with their names drastically misspelled. There are some records for the younger generation of Putts in the records of Zion Lutheran and Reformed Church of Womelsdorf, Pennsylvania. Womelsdorf is in Berks County, but lies not too far from the Lebanon County line. We found that people in Womelsdorf and Lebanon recognized the Putt name.

In the 1790 census of Hereford Towhship, Berks County, Pennsylvania, we find a Jacob Putt as head of a household. I had assumed that this man was the Jacob Putt who was my great great great grandfather, until I began to consider the dates more carefully. There were three males in this household: 1 under the age of 16 and 2 over the age of 16. There was one female. One might take this to be a couple with two sons, 1 under 16 and the other over 16. Of course, there are several other possibilities, including the possibility that one or more of these males could have been hired hands or boarders. Only heads of households were actually named in the census, and specific ages were not given. At any rate, if George Washington Putt was born in 1814 and was the eldest son in his family, it is possible that the Jacob Putt who was head of this household in 1790, was George's grandfather.

Jacob and Catherine had a large family. I have found an actual citation for only one child.

Other descendants of Jacob have provided the entire list, and some lists are not the same. I have been in contact with the descendants of Levi Jacob Putt, who must surely have been the close to the youngest of Jacob and Catherine's family, since he was born March 3, 1834. George Washington Putt, the eldest son, was born in 1814. Here is a list of Jacob and Catherine Shaffer Putt's children from the Internet, probably compiled by descendants of Levi Jacob: Levi Jacob, Joseph, George, Jacob, Henry, Franklin, Frederick, Sophia, Susan, Peggy, Sarah, and Henry. You will find many of these first names used by other Putt families in other parts of Pennsylvania, as well as in Ohio and Indiana.

There was a large Shaffer (spelled many ways) family around Womelsdorf, and, of course, many of the women were named Catherine, but I have not found a place in this family for our Catherine Shaffer Putt.

GEORGE WASHINGTON PUTT, 1814-1900

We are indebted to George himself for much of what we know about him. I don't know what it cost him, but he paid to have an article and a portrait of himself published in the 1885 HISTORY OF DE KALB COUNTY, INDIANA. We might ask ourselves (I certainly would like to know) why there was not also a portrait of his wife, Sarah, who had died only the previous year.

Obviously, George Washington Putt must have been named after the father of our country, and perhaps so were most of the other George Putts we find in various areas. Therefore, George may not have been a traditional family name before our George was born. He was born to Jacob and Catherine Shaffer Putt on November 19, 1814. He says that he was the eldest son, which does not necessarily mean that he was the eldest child, but I have not found any records to clarify this.

When he was fifteen years old, he began driving a freight team over the mountains. Family tradition says that his route took him over the Cumberland Gap. He states in his brief biography that he followed this vocation for fifteen years. He also says that he settled in Lebanon County, Pennsylvania in about 1835. It was on November 15, 1835, that he married Sarah Ann Getz. I didn't find land records for him in Lebanon County, either, so he may have continued being a teamster, but on shorter trips.

Sarah's birth year is given as 1821, so she must have married at the age of 14. Her family lived at Sinking Springs in Berks County. In his biography, George spelled Sarah's maiden name as "Getz," but the rest of her family that moved to Indiana spelled it "Getts."

Their son, Levi, was born June 24, 1840, in Lebanon County, Pennsylvania. In 1841, the family moved to Stark County, Ohio, and stayed there eleven months. I have never heard an explanation of the stay there, but there were other Putts in Stark County at that time. In 1842, the family moved on to De Kalb County, Indiana, where George entered (with the government) forty acres of land and bought forty more. They must have lived the typical settler life, clearing away forest to build a cabin and plant a crop. Sarah's brother, William Getts, was one of their neighbors and the families may have shared some of their efforts. Another brother, Isaac Getts, either came with them, or followed them to Indiana. George bought another forty acres of land, bringing his total to 120 acres. In 1844, they had a daughter, naming her Joanna Elizabeth Catherine Putt. Jacob's mother was Catherine, and Sarah's mother was Elizabeth, so who was the Joanna this child was named for?

After thinking about the name of their baby girl, I began to wonder also about the name of their son. By either German or English naming traditions, shouldn't their first son be named Jacob for his paternal grandfather? Then I noticed that George and Sarah had been married for 4 years and 7 months when Levi was born. There would have been time for them to have had one or more children before Levi. If George and Sarah had lost one or two children in this time, they might never have mentioned them to the younger generation, and we would have no way of knowing about it.

They attended St. John's Reformed Church, just south of Hudson, Indiana. After George's death May 6, 1900, it was published in the newspaper that "Grandpa" Putt had died. Sarah and George are buried in the County Line Cemetery.

LEVI PUTT, 1840-1914
HARRIETT ANSTETT, 1846-1940

Levi Putt was born to George and Sarah Getts Putt in Lebanon County, Pennsylvania, on June 24, 1840. In 1841, the family moved to Stark County, Ohio. We do not know if this was meant to be a temporary or permanent move, but 11 months later, the family moved to Fairfield Township, DeKalb County, Indiana. At that time, the land was still covered with heavy forest, and Levi's father had to clear land and build a cabin.

In the only photo I have of Levi, his face was hidden by the shadow of his cap, so I do not really know what he looked like. The stories Aunt Lurah tells of him sound a bit amusing, until you put them all together, and then he appears in a darker light.

The first of these stories took place when Levi was in his early twenties. He did not volunteer for the Civil War, and when his neighbor, John Anstett, came home from the war crippled by a wound, Levi decided he was not going to let that happen to him. Apparently the big wagon was still in the family, and apparently Levi had learned to drive it, so he packed up and traveled west. He spent the war years driving settlers over western mountains. Family tradition does not name the mountains. According to the story, settlers would travel with smaller wagons which they could not get over the high passes. Levi, with more adequate equipment and at least 3 generations of experience as a teamster behind him, would have them load their belongings in his Conestoga wagon and then drive over the passes. The settlers, with their wagons much lightened, could then drive their wagons over and reload them with their belongings. They paid Levi in gold. Family tradition says that he buried the gold on the farm his parents gave him and that it was never found. It is more likely that he used it as his private bank, withdrawing and spending whenever he wished.

I find the second story more unpleasant. When Levi came home from the west, he decided that he wanted to marry Caroline Anstett, whose family lived nearby. Caroline refused to marry him, and finally moved to New York to get away from him. (Eventually she returned and married someone else, but that is another story.) With Caroline out of reach, Levi told her younger sister, Harriett, that she would have to marry him. And she did. On March 17, 1867. The only photos of Harriett that I have seen were taken of her as an old woman.

Another story Aunt Lurah tells about Levi is that he didn't believe in giving Christmas gifts. I don't know why, and I don't believe that Lurah knows why. Anyway, Harriett would buy gifts and hide them in the house. And Levi, either knowing or strongly suspecting their presence, would tear around the house, ranting and raving, looking for those gifts.

Levi and Harriet had 5 children: Susan (Susie), Frank, Sarah (Sadie), Joanna (Josie), and George. I know very little about the early years of this family. There exist what look to be studio photos of Frank, Joanna and George, all three of them attractive and well dressed. (That is probably where some of Levi's gold went.) Frank and Joanna, at least, spent some time as students at Tri-State. I have seen their names listed as members of literary societies at Tri-State. If you have read Aunt Lurah's history of this family, you will know that she blames Frank's inadequate preparation for the fact that he never graduated.

However, this is what Frank, as an old and not very happy man, told my parents: His parents asked, perhaps coerced, him to leave Tri-State. They promised, or implied, (I'm not sure which) that they would eventually give him the home farm (which his grandfather, George, had given Levi). Giving in was a big mistake for Frank. He was supposed to be a very intelligent man and might have done very well away from his parents. And, yes, I think this casts a very bad light on Levi. If he needed help on the farm, there was young George still at hand, and gold to hire someone else. I think he just couldn't let go of Frank.

George and Sadie were the only ones that got away, and I'm not sure about them. George and his family eventually moved to Michigan, so it was not so handy for the Putts to interfere in there lives. However, when Lurah and Doyle attended George's funeral, she reported that at the cemetery, George's family stood around in groups of people that were not speaking to other people. Sadie married and had a family, but she stayed in Indiana, and she seemed driven to cheat the other members of her family. Josie died at 26, of pneumonia, in Sadie's house. Sadie's husband later committed suicide.
Susie committed suicide in her mid-forties, under pressure from Sadie, according to my Mama and Aunt Lurah. My mother was old enough to remember Susie, and she was fond of her Aunt Susie.

Levi suffered a stroke when he was 69 (1905) and lived on, paralyzed, until August 18, 1914. In 1913, Levi and Harriett divided their land between the 4 surviving children. They gave Frank the 40 acres he and Maude were living on, with the proviso that Frank would pay them $25 every year as long as either of them lived. They gave Sadie (real name Sarah Ann, married to Oscar Doty) another farm with the proviso that Sadie would provide all the firewood they needed for the rest of their lives. They then divided the home farm between Susie and George, with Harriett to have a lifetime right to the property. In 1916, Oscar and Sadie bought George's half of the farm (29 acres) for $1740.00. In 1927, well before Harriett's death, Sadie sold this land to John H. Reinoehl for $1500, so Harriett did not get the income from this land, as she should have. Later in 1916, Susie committed suicide, driven to it by Sadie, according to my mother. In 1917, Harriett signed a quit-claim deed for Susie's land to Frank, Sadie and George. In 1931, Sadie sold her claim to this land to Frank for $1 and "other considerations." According to Aunt Lurah, the "other considerations" amounted to the $900 Frank and Maude had banked from the sale of gravel and had been earmarked for a badly needed addition to their house. (There will be more on this in the Frank and Maude section. When Harriett died in 1940, Frank wanted to continue living there, but Uncle George wanted his money from the sale, so the property was sold for $1450. For all the trouble he went through over his parents' farm, and all it cost him, all Frank ever got was 2/3 of $1450. And Aunt Lurah doesn't think he got that either.

Harriett Anstett Putt died at the age of 93 ½ years on March 4, 1940. She and Levi are buried at Circle Cemetery near Hudson, in Steuben County, Indiana.

I was 6 years old when she died, and I can remember seeing Harriett twice. We drove past her house every time we went to my grandmother's house, but we did not stop. I remember being inside her house once. Lorna Lee and I were tag-alongs with Uncle Dwight. He went there to take them (Grandpa and Great Grandma) something or to move something for them. I believe that at least one more of the men of the family went along, but I don't remember which it was. I believe that it was not my father and that Mama had not wanted me to go, but Uncle Dwight had said something like, "It isn't going to hurt anything." (I would have wanted to go anywhere Lorna Lee went.) What I remember most about the house was the wood-box. No one else in my family had a wood-box. I think that Harriett was straight, small, and sour-looking. Lorna Lee remembers her as "scary."

My cousin, Lorna Lee Putt Virgin, once mentioned to me that in an article Aunt Lurah had written, Harriett Anstett Putt had appeared to be sort of a care giving angel, tending to her sick neighbors. So I asked my mother about it, and she gruffly replied, "She just went to other people's houses and stayed." The truth may lie somewhere in between. Harriett lived a long time after Levi's death, and Levi's gold couldn't have lasted forever. Either it was all spent or the remainder of it was buried and lost on the property. (That may be the real reason that Sadie was so mad to get ownership of the land - so she could look for the gold. It was said that she hired men to dig on the property.) There were not many careers open to women, so Harriett probably was earning a bit of money by doing what she knew how to do: to do housekeeping, to tend the sick, and to take care of newborns and their tired mothers. Even if there wasn't much money involved, she would be relieved of providing her own food and fires for the time she was in someone else's house.

My mother took me to Harriett's place another time, but I don't think we went in the house. Mama paid them (Grandpa and Great Grandma) something like $5.00 for an old washstand that was in the barn. Looking back, I wonder if they needed that money. Grandpa must have been somewhere around 70 years old (if he was 64 when I was born, it must have been at least 4 or more years later for me to remember), and he was not farming. What I remember about the farm that day is that it was so quiet. There were no animals in the fields or in the barn. I never learned how Mother knew they had a washstand they were willing to sell, but it must have been that on one of Grandpa's trips to Grandma's farm, the two of them talked about it. And, by the way, that was the oak washstand that I later cut the legs off - sorry.

Mama was never able to forgive her grandmother for things she had said and done. Mama and Aunt Pauline had a very different relationship with their grandmother than Aunt Lurah had with her. There was the time that Harriett said to little Naomi and Pauline that she had never wanted them, that she had wanted only Dwight. I can't imagine what demons must have prompted her to say that. Then there was the fact that Harriett started the rumor around the neighborhood that my dear Grandma was having an affair with her sister's husband. According to Aunt Lurah, when Harriett got too old to live on her own, she spent the winters in town, with Aunt Sadie. Sadie got tired of looking after Harriett, but she had told Harriett that Maude (Grandma) wanted to poison her, so Harriett would not live with Frank and Maude. Together, Sadie and Harriett concocted the story about Grandma and Uncle Purd (unbelievable, especially if you knew Uncle Purd.)

They spread this story around the neighborhood. I have no idea if anyone actually believed it, but you know how people like to gossip. When the gossip got to Kendallville, Aunt Daisy, Grandma's youngest sister, heard it and told Grandma about it. I don't know what Grandma did, but I expect she put up a fight. Lurah says that the Dotys dropped Sadie because of it, and it wasn't long until she moved to Peru, where one of her sons lived. She was a dressmaker, and her Hudson business may have dried up because of her part in the "scandal." Grandma had lots of friends.

My mother's anger was directed at Harriett, but I believe that it was Levi, who died when Mama was very young, that started this family off in the wrong direction. Although there were 2 not very nice people in 2 generations, Levi and Sadie, the bad behavior does not seem to be a genetic thing. Sadie's kids turned out well. The Anstetts were okay, as far as I can tell. Although Harriett's behavior was reprehensible, and I'm not forgiving her, either, I consider her, Susie, and Frank as victims of Levi and Sadie. I'm sure it isn't quite proper to express long distance diagnoses in a family history, but it has occurred to me that Harriett may not have been of over average intelligence, or was exceptionally gullible. Her older sister could see that Levi was a "bad'un," and fled, but Harriett married him. The disposal of their land may have seemed okay at the time, but surely Sadie had already showed signs of greed and avarice.

Anyway, the upshot of Sadie's and Harriett's campaign was that Frank moved to his mother's house to take care of her and deeded the 25 remaining acres of his farm to Maude.

In the same census (1810) in Hopewell T, Bedford Co is Henry Putt, with 3 fwm's 10 thru 15, 1 fwm 16 thru 25, 1 fwm, 26 thru 44 and 1 fwm 45 and over, 2 fwfs 10 thru 15 + 1 fwf 45 and over. This gentleman has either a Swiss or Dutch connection and married into a Mennonite family. I think he is somehow related to our Jacob, though I haven't any idea how. Read the story about him.

PUTT FAMILY

This family is the most difficult to deal with of all the families I have written about so far, on a personal basis, as well as being very confusing.

First of all, the family dead-ends far too early. I have communicated with assorted distant cousins, and none of us have been able to go back farther than my 3rd great grandparents, Jacob Putt and Catharine Shaffer. I am a little irritated that they didn't leave a better trail. I have researched a number of names that would sound very much the same in a heavy Germanic accent: Pott, Potts, Bott, Botts, Bottz, Butt, Butts, etc. Sometimes I have been able to eliminate one of these families, but others are still in the running, adding to my confusion.

Second, I was very close to my grandmother, Maude Bell Brugh, who married into this family, and whose death was traumatic for all of us.

Third, I have, since I was a teen-ager, thought that I saw in myself some of the characteristics of my grandfather, Frank Putt, whom I did not want to be like. And further, apparently I look enough like his family to resemble one of the far distant Pennsylvania Putts. And this comes after spending most of my life thinking that I look like my father's family.

Aunt Lurah has told me some stories that she would never have written down about her family, and I am still trying to decide whether and how to handle this information.

The easiest way to begin is with Jacob and Catharine. Most of what I know comes from two entries made by their descendants in county history books. And there is a conflict between the two. Here we go.

JACOB AND CATHARINE SHAFFER

As Aunt Lurah (Lurah Jeannette Putt DeVoe Phillips) had not been able to get beyond this couple, I assumed that if I went to Berks County, Pennsylvania, where they had lived, I would find some more records of them. I didn't, at least nothing to amount to anything. I found no property records for them. A volunteer staffer in the genealogical library in Reading couldn't find anything on the Putt family, and said that looking for a Shaffer (any spelling) in Berks County was like looking for a Smith anywhere else.

The entry in the Berks County history book says that Jacob was born in Germany and immigrated when he was 15 years old. I believe we can discount that information, because his son, George Washington Putt, Jacob's eldest son writes in the DeKalb County history, that his parents were native-born Pennsylvanians. George also says that he is of English and German descent. The Berks County Shaffers are pretty surely of German descent. It appears to me that these Putt men kept marrying into German families and producing German-speaking children. Jacob Putt married a Shaffer; his son, George, married a Getz/Getts; George's son married an Anstett (the Anstetts considered themselves French, but they spoke German).

Census entries also support a Pennsylvania birth for Jacob Putt and Catharine Shaffer. In the 1880 census of DeKalb County, Indiana, Pennsylvania is listed as the birthplace of both of George Washington Putt's parents. The same information is given in the entry for Levi (known to his descendants as Levi Jacob) Putt, a younger brother of George Washington Putt, in the 1880 census of Berks County, Pennsylvania, as well as in the entry for their sister, Susan Eckenroth, in the 1900 census of Berks County, Pennsylvania.

So, we are looking at a Jacob who moved to Berks County from some other part of Pennsylvania (or even from another part of Berks County, as we shall see) when he was 15 years old. I haven't a clue as to whether he came alone or as part of his family. Since a few other Putts have shown up in Berks County, I am guessing that he came with his parents and siblings. However, at 15, he may have been considered adult enough to be on his own. He worked as a teamster, with oxen, I assume. He drove one of the big Conestoga wagons, hauling supplies for the ironworks in the Robesonia area. As I understood it, the teamster did not ride on the wagon, as we see in movies, but walked beside his team (very likely oxen), using voice commands to drive them.

According to the grandson who wrote the entry for the Berks County history, Jacob attended St. Daniel's Church and is buried in St. Daniel's Cemetery. In a history of St. Daniel's, I did come across his name sort of tentatively mentioned, as though word-of-mouth said he had been part of the church, but without documentation. There were two different congregations using the St. Daniel's building. You may come across "Lutheran and Reformed" when reading about some churches. Lutheran and Reformed is not a denomination. What this means is that a Lutheran congregation and a Reformed congregation were using the same facilities for worship. I did not find Jacob and Catherine listed in the St. Daniel's burials, although they may be there with their names drastically misspelled. There are some records for the younger generation of Putts in the records of Zion Lutheran and Reformed Church of Womelsdorf, Pennsylvania. Womelsdorf is in Berks County, but lies not too far from the Lebanon County line. We found that people in Womelsdorf and Lebanon recognized the Putt name.

In the 1790 census of Hereford Towhship, Berks County, Pennsylvania, we find a Jacob Putt as head of a household. I had assumed that this man was the Jacob Putt who was my great great great grandfather, until I began to consider the dates more carefully. There were three males in this household: 1 under the age of 16 and 2 over the age of 16. There was one female. One might take this to be a couple with two sons, 1 under 16 and the other over 16. Of course, there are several other possibilities, including the possibility that one or more of these males could have been hired hands or boarders. Only heads of households were actually named in the census, and specific ages were not given. At any rate, if George Washington Putt was born in 1814 and was the eldest son in his family, it is possible that the Jacob Putt who was head of this household in 1790, was George's families and producing German-speaking children. Jacob Putt married a Shaffer; his son, George, married a Getz/Getts; George's son married an Ansteit (the Ansteits considered themselves French, but they spoke German).

On the other hand, perhaps he was his father; please read the census information. I have begun to suspect that Catherine may have been Jacob's second wife. George could well have been the eldest son of Jacob and Catherine Shaffer Putt without being the eldest son of Jacob Putt.

I am now inclined to believe that Benjamin Putt and William Putt were sons of Jacob by his first wife.

Jacob and Catherine had a large family. I have found an actual citation for only one child. Other descendants of Jacob have provided the entire list, and some lists are not the same. I have been in contact with the descendants of Levi Jacob Putt, who must surely have been the close to the youngest of Jacob and Catherine's family, since he was born March 3, 1834. George Washington Putt, the eldest son, was born in 1814. Here is a list of Jacob and Catherine Shaffer Putt's children from the Internet, probably compiled by descendants of Levi Jacob: Levi Jacob, Joseph, George, Jacob, Henry, Franklin, Frederick, Sophia, Susan, Peggy, Sarah, and Henry. You will find many of these first names used by other Putt families in other parts of Pennsylvania, as well as in Ohio and Indiana.

There was a large Shaffer (spelled many ways) family around Womelsdorf, and, of course, many of the women were named Catherine, but I have not found a place in this family for our Catherine Shaffer Putt.

There are several different stories from different branches of the Putt family. The family is given different backgrounds; besides Germany, Switzerland and Holland are suggested as their source. And take the name "vanden Putte," a real Dutch name, by the way. It sounds faintly aristocratic, doesn't it? However, it means "by the well" or "by the pit" and is therefore closely related to the English "Putt" or "Pitt."

CONSIDERATION OF INFORMATION ABOUT DR. EDWARD PUTT

The source for the following is Notes And Queries Historical and Genealogical Chiefly Relating to Interior Pennsylvania, edited by William Henry Egle, Third Series In Three Volumes, Volume 3, pp 237-238.

EDWARD J. PUTT, M.D.

Edward J. Putt was born May 23, 1819, near Womelsdorf, Berks county, Pa.; died October 24, 1888, at Highspire. He was a descendant of Johannes Putt, who emigrated to America on the ship Halifax, landing at Philadelphia on the 22nd of September, 1752. The doctor's grandfather was Jacob Putt, and the father of the late William Putt, who married Catherine Hoffman. The father came from Berks county in early life to what is now Oak Lane farm, owned by Col. James Young, in Lower Swatara township, and after discontinuing farming, resided for a few years in Middletown, from whence he removed to Harrisburg, where he ws employed as prison watchman and afterwards superintendent of the Harrisburg cemetery.

His children were:

I. Dr. Edward-J.
II. Benneville, d. in Wormleysburg
III. Elvira, d.s.p.
IV. Alfred-H, residing in Halifax
V. Frank, residing in Harrisburg
VI. William-J. residing at Camp Hill
VII. John-H., d. in Wormleysburg
VIII. Augustus-H

Doctor Putt was a self-made man. He received his education in the common schools of his day and by private study until he was fitted to teach school, which profession he followed several winters, in the meantime reading medicine with his uncle, the late Dr. Jonathan Zerbe, of Sheafferstown. After graduating in Philadelphia in 1842, he located at Highspire, where he continued in the active practice of his profession about forty-six years. His professional life was an arduous one, and the range of his practice was quite extensive, reaching beyond the South mountain in York county. Dr. Putt married Cassia Oberly, daughter of Frederick Oberly and his wife, Maria Sheaffer, who, with three children, survive - Augustus, of Highspire; Dr. Moris Oberly, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, practicing medicine at Oberlin, and Alice. The first and last of his children are mutes. The funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon, October 27, 1888, in the U.B. church, conducted by Revs. E.L. Hughes and J.B. Doucherly.

In Names Of Foreigners Who Took The Oath Of Allegiance 1721-1775, in the "List of Foreigners Imported In the Ship Halifax, Capt. Thomas Coatam, From Rotterday, Last From Cowes, England. Qualified Sept. 22, 1752, is listed "Johannes Patt." There is no other information given about this man, but I believe we need to consider that he may have been the father of Jacob Putt. On the other hand, the person who wrote the biography of Dr. Edward Putt may have some errors in his work.

Here is another item I believe we should consider. It is taken from 1723-1973 Two Hundred Years Tulpehocken, edited by Marie Knorr Graeff. "John Peter Pacht came to the Tulpehocken region before May 13, 1723. Later lists do not contain the name, or one similar to it, nor do earlier lists carry the name. Here again there may have been a mistake in deciphering the name, due to the poor penmanship of the early writers. No one named Pacht owned any land in the section around the year 1723." Of course, handwriting may not be the only culprit; hearing and spelling could also cause problems in the transcription of names. I believe this item is based on an early tax list.

I have probably mentioned this to you many times before, but "Putt" is an English name. If the immigrant ancestor of this family was German, Swiss or Dutch, as has been variously hinted or proclaimed, then his family name had been considerably abbreviated. One does see "putt" as part of Germanic names. Holland has been connected to at least 2

Pennsylvania Putts. One of these men seems to have had Mennonite friends. The story (there is no documentation} does not state that he was Mennonite, but it leaves one wondering if he was at least somehow connected with one of the protesting or reforming religious groups. Holland was for many years a center for religious nonconformists who were not tolerated in their various homelands. People went there from England, France, Germany, all over Europe, in fact. If our Putt ancestor was Mennonite, that might explain why early Pennsylvania birth records do not help in the search for this family.

HENRY PUTT

A History. . . Saxton, Written by Miles Blake, 1954

This is 1954 and is the hundredth year of the borough of Saxton, in the community of the once thriving place where I was born in the year of 1872. I am now in my 81st year. Miles M. Blake.

A history of the rise and fall of a little community that was located, partly in Huntingdon County and partly in Bedford County, along the upper Juniata River, known as the Raystown Branch of the Juniata River.

In order to introduce this history, we will have to go back to about the Year 1730. At this time there lived a family in Holland by the name of Shoup, and they had a son named Henry. This family was very poor, as they made a living by farming, and it was pretty tough going to eke out a living, as their Farms were very small. Henry, being grown to manhood and not seeing much chance of getting ahead in his native country, had heard of the new land of America and decided to try his luck there. He had also heard that a may by the name of Penn had a large grant of land, called Penn's Woods or Pennsylvania, and that he had sent out word that anyone who wanted to come and settle on this land, was welcome to take up land without any charge.

Young Henry was looking for adventure and a place to settle to start a life of his own. He married the girl of his choice and they started on their honeymoon for America to find a home in Pennsylvania that they had heard so much about. After several weeks on the water they landed at Philadelphia, and looking around, found that about all the land close around there had been taken up. They bought a camping outfit and started for the Susquehanna River, and finally came to where the Juniata empties into the Susquehanna. They got a canoe and started to navigate the Juniata, and they pushed their way upstream, catching fish and shooting game to eke out their meals. They finally came to the South Branch of the Juniata, now called the Raystown Branch. Here they pushed their way upstream, where they found the fine fishing - catching many large salmon, pike and other fish, with plenty of wild game in the forests close along the stream. They made their way on upstream to where a small stream emptied into the Raystown Branch, so they stopped there to look around, and they came to the conclusion that here would be an ideal spot to settle down. There seemed to be plenty of rich land; the stream was alive with several species of fish; and in the forests there was an abundance of wild game. This was an important factor, as they would practically have to live on fish and game, along with a few berries and wild fruits, until they would get their ground ready to plant. They soon found a likely looking spot not far from the stream (which was later called Shoup's Run) with plenty of good pure drinking water, and here decided to build their future home.

First, they would build a rough cabin to live in, until they could build a better house. For many weeks and months they were very busy and happy, building their cabin; cutting the logs and dragging them by hand to the site of the cabin. They didn't have a horse, or yet even an ox, which was mostly used for that kind of work, and also for cultivating the new soil after it was cleared. After a lot of hard work, and not much pleasure, they finally had a rough cabin built. They were very proud and satisfied, and happy that now they had made a start in a life of happiness and contentment.

In the meantime they had heard of a settlement on the West side of the Mountain, which is now called Tussey Mountain. The South Branch of the Juniata River runs along close to the foot of the Russey Mountain. Mr. Shoup decided to cross the Tussey Mountain into what is now called Morrison's Cove, and see if he could buy a horse or a yoke of oxen. His wife was to go with him, as he refused to let her alone at the cabin while he was gone. One morning they started to walk across the Tussey Mt. At a point now known as Raver's Gap. (The Raver's Gap Road crosses the Tussey Mt. About three miles Southwest of Saxton and comes out at Woodbury in Morrison's Cove.) At that time there were bands of roving Indians in this part of Pennsylvania. Although they had been drivin west of the Allegheny Mts., they often came back across the mountains in small bands to make raids on the farmers' stock; sometimes to kill some of the settlers and rob them of whatever valuables they had, they escape back across the mountains. Mr. Shoup, knowing there might be Indians hiding in the mountain, made sure to take his rifle and plenty of ammunition with him. He and his wife traveled all day and got to Woodbury late that night without seeing any Indians, however. They stayed that night in Woodbury and the next day started out to buy a horse or yoke of oxen. After doing a lot of traveling and inquiring, they finally purchased a yoke of oxen that a man had brought from Maryland and drove the oxen back to Woodbury.

Mr. And Mrs. Shoup kept working hard to make themselves a home, and seemed to be happy and satisfied with what they accomplished, although they always had to be on the alert on account of the Indians, who often made raids from west of the Alleghenies. There were quite a few other settlers scattered along the east side of the Tussey Mountain in what is now called Woodcock Valley, and along the Raystown Branch of the Juniata River. Mr. Shoup visited these settlers and discussed the necessity of building Fort in order to have a place to protect themselves in case the Indians made a raid in this section.

All the settlers agreed that it was a good idea and they set a day to hold a meeting at the home of Mr. Shoup to discuss ways and means, and a site on which to build the Fort. The meeting took place and all agreed to build a log Fort on a piece of land not far from Mr. Shoup's cabin. This site was on part of the land on which Mr. Shoup had settled and started to improve, and was situated about one-fourth mile northwest of Mr. Shoup's cabin along a slight raise of ground, about two hundred yards from the east bank of the River. There was a spring of water just at the bottom of this raise, which was most important, on account of having drinking water within the Fort in case of a siege. This Fort was almost directly north, about two hundred feet from the Borough line of what is now Saxton. The new road that leads out of the Borough to the north, runs almost directly through the center of what was the stockade of the old Shoup Fort.

The Shoup's had several children by this time; the first a girl, and they named her Sarah; then two boys, Henry and John.

In Holland, Mr. Shoup's family had neighbors by the name of Putt, who also had a son named Henry. Young Henry had often heard his parents talk of the Shoup's who had gone to America, so he planned that when he grew up and had saved enough money to make the trip, that he would go to America also. When he was in his early twenties, he left for the new country, found his way to the Juniata Valley and the home of Mr. Shoup, and went to work on his farm. Eventually he married Mr. Shoup's daughter, Sarah. Mr. Shoup gave them a piece of his land along Shoup's Run on which to build their home.

Henry Putt was mechanically minded and knew a great deal about milling, as his father in Holland had owned a Grist Mill and was a Millwright. This new settlement was badly in need of a Mill to grind their grain, which they found would grow very easily in this country. Young Putt picked a spot along the stream where he thought would be a good location to build a Mill, and where he could turn the water from the stream into the Mill with the least amount of work; also with the least danger of the Mill being washed out in time of floods. The spot that he chose was at a point about one hundred feet east of the bridge that spans the stream and is crossed by the highway that leads from the Borough of Saxton through Puttstown (which was named for Mr. Putt) and on to Coalmont, Dudley, Broadtop City and over the Broadtop Mt. Incidentally, the new road passes directly over the spot where the old mill used to stand.

Mr. And Mrs. Shoup kept working hard to make themselves a home, and seemed to be happy and satisfied with what they accomplished, although they always had to be on the alert on account of the Indians, who often made raids from west of the Alleghenies. There were quite a few other settlers scattered along the east side of the Tussey Mountain in what is now called Woodcock Valley, and along the Raystown Branch of the Juniata River. Mr. Shoup visited these settlers and discussed the necessity of building Fort in order to have a place to protect themselves in case the Indians made a raid in this section.

All the settlers agreed that it was a good idea and they set a day to hold a meeting at the home of Mr. Shoup to discuss ways and means, and a site on which to build the Fort. The meeting took place and all agreed to build a log Fort on a piece of land not far from Mr. Shoup's cabin. Mr. Putt built a dam about three hundred feet upstream from the site of the Mill. Then a trench or millrace was dug to carry the water from the dam to the Mill. He then built what they called a head gate.

Henry Putt became the father of seven boys, whose names were: Henry Putt II, Michael, Abel, Jacob, Jonathon, Abraham and William. (William Putt was the writer's Grandfather.)

Mr. Putt built up a great trade in the milling business, and he had to find an outlet for the sale of his flour and feed, as there weren't enough people in the vicinity at that time to consume his surplus. He conceived the idea of shipping his surplus flour to Baltimore, which by that time was becoming a good market.

Well, this continues, and it's an interesting story, and I suspect I should have pruned more of the first part. On the Internet, I found the comment by another person that she had read the story with the homeland being Switzerland instead of Holland.

Let me list some of the descendants of this Henry Putt:

His sons were JACOB, HENRY, Michael, Able, WILLIAM, and Jonathan. (I assume there were daughters, too, but they are not listed in the sheet I have in hand.) JACOB's children were HENRY, SUSANNAH, Abraham, ELIZABETH, WILLIAM Theophilus, Martin and Michael. HENRY (2) named his children: HENRY, ELIZABETH, LEVI, Sarah Ann, and David. I don't have that information for the rest of Henry's sons right now.
